A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in His wisdom has recalled

The soul is safe in heaven.

And we must not despair
But trust in God, and with His help
We hope to meet her there.

A PALACE OF ART.

Eden

THE GREAT EDEN PHOTO STUDIOS ARE GENERALLY DESCRIBED AS A "PALACE OF ART." THE BUILDING ITSELF IS GORGEOUS IN THE EXTREME, THE BRIDAL AND OTHER DRESSING-ROOMS ASTONISH THE PEOPLE BY THE GRANDEUR OF THEIR FURNISHINGS AND DECORATIONS, WHILE THE OPERATING ROOMS ARE SUPPLIED WITH THE FINEST AND MOST MODERN INSTRUMENTS THAT MONEY CAN BUY, SO THAT IT IS LITTLE WONDER THAT SUCH PERFECT, HARMONIOUS, AND ARTISTIC RESULTS ARE OBTAINED. EVERY CUSTOMER GOES AWAY DELIGHTED WITH THEIR PORTRAITS, AND NEVER SEEM SATISFIED UNTIL THEY HAVE SENT SEVERAL OF THEIR FRIENDS AS CUSTOMERS TO THE EDEN PHOTO STUDIOS. THE WEDDING PORTRAITS TAKEN BY OUR ARTISTS HAVE BEEN ADMIRED THROUGHOUT AUSTRALASIA, AND IT IS NOW QUITE THE STYLE FOR A WEDDING PARTY TO DRIVE DIRECT TO THE EDEN PHOTO STUDIOS TO HAVE A PORTRAIT THAT WILL BE A MEMENTO OF THE OCCASION AND THE DAY. THE SECRET OF THE GREAT SUCCESS OF THE EDEN PHOTO STUDIOS IS THE FACT THAT NOT ONLY ARE THE PORTRAITS PERFECT IN DETAIL, BUT THE PRICES ARE RIDICULOUSLY LOW AS COMPARED WITH OTHER FIRST-CLASS HOUSES. THE PRICE CHARGED FOR ONE DOZEN OF THE FASHIONABLE "PARIS PANELS" IS ONLY 12s 6d PER DOZEN, WHILE THE PRICE ELSEWHERE IS 20s; BUT THE GREATEST DRAW AND THE LINE THAT HAS MADE US FAMOUS IS THE 12 ENAMELLED CABINETS AND A COMPLETELY FRAMED ENLARGEMENT FOR 15s. THE ENLARGEMENT ITSELF IS WORTH DOUBLE THE MONEY, AND IS FRAMED COMPLETE SO THAT THERE IS NO FURTHER EXPENSE. FOR THE CONVENIENCE OF VISITORS THE EDEN STUDIOS WILL BE OPEN ALL HOLIDAYS.

NOTE THE ADDRESS—

A LETTER FROM HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

Captain E. W. Wallington, Private Secretary to His Excellency, writes:—"I am directed by His Excellency the Governor-General to transmit 12s 6d to you as the Price of the Photograph of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, which you have supplied to him. His Excellency considers it an excellent likeness, and is much pleased with it."

While in England in July last our Mr. BLOW was fortunate in securing the Latest Negative of Her MAJESTY in which she is wearing emblems of Royalty. The Queen is seated in a full three-quarter Figure. The lighting is a strong Rembrandt, the Pose shows dignity and grace, the Expression is calm and noble, and altogether it is just such a PORTRAIT as one would like to have of our BELOVED QUEEN.

COPIES may be had Post Free to any address in any colony. CABINETS, One Shilling; PARIS PANELS, Two Shillings; an 8 x 6 PICTURE, framed, size of frame 14 x 12, Free by Parcels Post to any address, Five Shillings; and a Beautiful 12 x 10 in. PORTRAIT, framed size 20 x 16, Free as above, Ten Shillings. The above Frames are chaste and good, and are finished ready for hanging. All the above Portraits are from the same Negative.

BABS THE IMPOSSIBLE.

BY SARAH GRAND.

[ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.]

He bowed to the ladies' gallery. During moments like these, when the multitude is moved, the humanities are about, and there is great levelling of classes. To everybody's astonishment Mrs. Kingconstance rose to the occasion in every sense of the word. She carried a great bunch of roses tied with the candidate's colours, and when he bowed to her, she arose, leant over the rail, and threw him the flowers. He bowed low, with evident emotion. His mother got up at the same time, and the two ladies shook hands in full view of the crowd, amid resounding cheers. Many people wiped their eyes, and expressed their opinions that it were "better nor any play they'd ever seen."

"My lords, ladies, and gentlemen," Mr. Jellybond Tinney resumed in a voice vibrating with emotion, "I feel myself honoured above all men. Only one thing is now wanted to crown my career right royally, and that I look to you to bestow. If you believe in me you will make me member for this constituency; and thereby you will prove to me and to the world that you admire my conduct, rejoice in my success, and approve of the example I have set you."

Prolonged cheers and shouts of "For he's a jolly goood fellow" greeted the conclusion of the address. Mr. Jellybond Tinney's mother was seen to wipe her eyes. This was the first symptom of weakness she had betrayed. Standing beside Mrs. Kingconstance during the handshaking and congratulations which followed, she bore herself with simple dignity. It was only then that Mrs. Kingconstance recognised her.

"Dear me?" she exclaimed. "It really is you. Well, how nice! Oh, those dear, dear days! And the luncheons and the little dishes, and the coffee"—her voice sank to a playful whisper—"the cordial and the cigarettes! You really are a dear, and so handsome too. And you are going to be my mother-in-law. Well, how nice!"

Little Miss Spice came perking up, head bobbing, curls twining and untwining, all a flutter of feeling.

"I congratulate you," she cried, clasping Mrs. Kingconstance's hand convulsively. "And you too, madam—his mother" She pressed her handkerchief to her eyes. "Oh, what a man!" she added. "What a noble man!"

CHAPTER XLVIII.

Immediately after the election Jeffrey went to see Cadenhouse, and found him in his tower. They began to talk about Binks, who had been returned in triumph by an overwhelming majority.

"I knew he'd succeed the moment I recognised him," Jeffrey remarked. "Binks's influence on an audience is magnetic. Read his speeches, and you find nothing in them; listen to them, and you are all aglow. You remember that night in London when I took you to hear him and drink Soul Revivers?—you remember how the people gazed at him? Once he caught their attention and riveted their gaze, he could do anything he liked with them."

"By the way, how did that night end?" Cadenhouse asked.

Jeffrey laughed.

"How did the other night end?" he rejoined.

"I haven't the remotest idea," said Cadenhouse.

"Neither have I," said Jeffrey; "neither has anybody, I'll bet, but Binks himself. Yet I am morally convinced that that cordial is an illusion—at least the effects of it is. If the liquor were as strong as it appears to be the reaction would be unpleasant. But there is no reaction from it, no after effect."

"So I observed. Yet I don't see how it acts."

"Plucky of the widow, wasn't it, to stand by him?" Jeffrey remarked.

"Er—yes, I suppose so," said Cadenhouse. "But I—er—dislike that sort of display myself."

"It's theatrical, of course. By the way,"—he took out his notebook—"I'm interested in a theatre a friend of mine is running. I'll just make a note of that incident; it might be useful to him."

When he had jotted down the note, he turned over the leaves of the book, and showed Cadenhouse a page on which were words and lines.

"Can you make that out?" he asked.

Cadenhouse could make nothing of it.

"That is meant for Babe," Jeffrey explained, "asleep under a tree—you know the spot. That's meant for the river. I found her there, fast asleep, and such a picture! I thought it would make a good set. By the way, you are on very good terms with Babs, are you not?"

"I have known her all her life," Cadenhouse answered stiffly.

"She's a pickle, or I'm much mistaken."

"Babs is erratic," Cadenhouse answered—"or rather she used to be erratic as a child. She is older now, and knows better."

"Erratic do you call it!" said Jeffrey in a tone which was indescribably offensive to Cadenhouse.

"You are not speaking slightingly of Babs, I presume," he said.

"Not if your intentions are serious," Jeffrey answered, laughing.

"I do not in the least understand you," Cadenhouse rejoined.

Jeffrey laughed again.

A servant came in at the moment with a letter. Cadenhouse took it from him, and held it in his hand unopened.

"Don't be an old humbug," Jeffrey said, when they were alone again. "From something she let fall, I feel sure you know Miss Babs a lot better than you pretend."

"I know nothing in the least to her discredit," said Cadenhouse, much annoyed, "and what is more, I am sure she is incapable of doing anything in the least discreditable."

As the words left his lips the door opened, and Babs the Impossible walked in.

She walked in with the easy air of one who is at home in the place.

When she saw the gentlemen she stopped short.

For a few seconds Jeffrey Wyde looked hard at Cadenhouse, with a cynical smile on his face; then he turned on his heel and left them together, without so much as another glance at Babs.

"Why is Jeffrey rude to me?" she demanded.

"Because you are here," Cadenhouse groaned, clenching his nervous hand till the knuckles whitened.

"I beg your pardon for being here, Cadenhouse," Babs began. "I heard you had gone away. Ally Spice saw your omnibus with a lot of luggage on it pass on the way to the station——"

"Some guests were going," said Cadenhouse.

"And I was roaming about this afternoon without intention and came to the tower," she pursued; "and the door was open, and the impulse seized me on a sudden to run up—as you were away—to run up for a last look. I've been up to the top of the tower—not into the second stage, though the door was unlocked. You said you would shew me that yourself some day, and unless you show me it yourself, I do not care to see it—now. I've been up to the top of the tower, looking down at the peaceful land, and at the sea; all is so quiet, so infinitely calm, out there—such a contrast to the terrible turmoil here,"—she clasped her hands to her heart. "Cadenhouse, I've made a mess of my life somehow. Everything has gone wrong with me. I don't know what I've done, but all the people about avoid me. Just now, down there on the road, Meg Normanton and her sister crossed over, so as not to have to speak to me; and Lady Mary, passing in her carriage, turned her head aside; and the other day Squire Normanton met me and nodded familiarly, without taking his hat off. What have I done? What have I done? I seem to have lost caste utterly. Nothing has gone right with me since you deserted me."

"Since I deserted you, Babs!" Cadenhouse exclaimed. "You sent me away."

Babs shrugged her shoulders expressively. Cadenhouse's countenance had contracted. He played nervously with the letter, which he still held in his hand.

"Pray open that letter," Babs said bitterly. "I see you are more interested in it than in me."

"I must open this letter, Babs," Cadenhouse answered. "But believe me, I mean you no discourtesy—and no unkindness either, heaven knows! I had no idea you—you——"

He broke off, and tore the letter open. As he read, his hand trembled, and the colour left his face.

"Bad news, I'm afraid," Babs exclaimed, with concern in her voice.

COUNTRY NEWS.

RATING A MINE.

WYALONG, Tuesday.

In the police court to-day the case of Roberts v. Neeld was heard. Roberts is the Wyalong municipal bailiff, and under a Mayor's warrant entered on the well-known mining property of Messrs Neeld and Sons, and levied for the amount of the municipal rates said to be due. The levy was made last Friday, and the bailiff left his assistant in charge of the premises. After dark on Friday night the assistant was ejected. On the following morning the bailiff and his assistant again entered on the property, and both were then ejected by Mr. Frederick Neeld, sen. A summons was issued against Mr. Neeld by the bailiff for assault. The police magistrate, Mr. Mears, held that the bailiff was not lawfully on the premises on the Saturday morning, his absence on the Friday night being an abandonment of the distress, although it might be that he had been ejected. It was admitted in cross-examination by the assistant that he was not on the premises on Friday night, and as evidence had not been given to show that his absence was due to forcible ejection, the P.M. held that the assault committed on the bailiff himself on the following day was not unlawful, and dismissed the case with two guineas costs.

BATHURST, Tuesday.

The annual meeting of the district hospital was held to-night at the Town Hall, Mr. J. Rutherford (president) in the chair. Mr. A. Blackshaw, the secretary, read the annual report, which was very satisfactory. It showed that 126 typhoid cases—the majority from the outlying districts—had been treated during the year, with but 12 deaths. The number of patients treated during the year was 441. The balance-sheet showed the receipts to be £2595 and the expenditure £1564, leaving a balance to credit of £1526, less outstanding accounts of £135. The reports were adopted. The officers appointed for the ensuing year were:—President, Mr. J. Rutherford; trustees, J. Rutherford, H. Rouse, W. H. Paul, E. T. Webb, Hon. O. Lee, committee and auditors. Certain rules and bylaws were altered.

BERRIGAN, Tuesday.

Wheat continues to arrive at the railway station in great quantities, and there is a constant stream of waggons over the weighbridge. Great inconvenience is caused by the lack of trucks to take the wheat away. Over 50,000 bags are now stacked at the railway station and in the grain sheds.

BINGARA, Tuesday.

The Grand President of the Druids, Mr. T. N. Williams, arrived here from Inverell, and will attend the lodge meeting to-night to install the officers. He leaves for Moree in the morning.

BOMBALA, Tuesday.

The members of the Works Committee returned from Delegate yesterday and left this morning for Buckley Crossing, via Gunningrah and Bungarby.

BROKEN HILL, Tuesday.

Subscribers to the South Mine Sick and Accident Fund held a meeting last night to consider the bearings of the mine accident relief fund on it, and the practicability of carrying on. This fund was the outcome of a great disaster at South Mine nearly six years ago. The directors inaugurated it, making it compulsory on all employees to become members. Four years ago the employees took it over, and carried on to the present with gratifying success. The quarterly benefits averaged about £70. After debating the matter, it was unanimously decided to continue working, and endeavour to increase the membership.

COOMA, Tuesday.

A mass of rocks which has been an eyesore and nuisance in front of the Courthouse and other Government buildings is being removed. A good number of men are employed, and the work will take some time. The formation of a new street and new fence round the Government buildings will improve the appearance of that portion of the town.

COBAR, Tuesday.

Races were held yesterday in aid of the hospital.

DELEGATE, Tuesday.

The Public Works Committee held an inquiry here on Saturday as to the expediency of constructing a railway from Cooma to Delegate. A number of witnesses stated that if the line stopped at Bombala this end of the district would only be partially served, and it would not draw the Victorian trade from across the border.

DUBBO, Tuesday.

A letter has been received by the Dubbo Municipal Council from the Newcastle Council referring to the Premier's assumed promise of an additional subsidy, and asking the Dubbo council's co-operation through the member for the district in securing it. It was resolved to give the support asked. The Leichhardt Council has solicited the co-operation of the Dubbo Council in a further effort to secure a Government guarantee of municipal loans. At the meeting of the local council the Mayor and Alderman Hoane opposed the proposal, and the letter was merely received. Monthly accounts amounting to £565 14s 5d were passed for payment.

The banks and Government offices observed Anniversary Day on Saturday, and the stores were closed on Monday. There were no public amusements on either day.

The Quarter Sessions were continued to-day. Alfred Armidale, alias Williams, and Andrew O'Neil, charged with assaulting and robbing William Foldis at Dubbo on December 13, pleaded not guilty. Both were found guilty and remanded for sentence. Nassib Andrews, a Syrian, pleaded not guilty to a charge of having inflicted grievous bodily harm on a fellow countryman named Joseph Henry at Coonamble on November 13. He was found guilty of common assault, and fined £10.

GOULBURN, Tuesday.

Coafoy, the winner of the amateur foot-race at the Highland gathering, has been disqualified, and the prize has been awarded to Middleton. The third prize goes to Connell.

GRAFTON, Tuesday.

Regret is expressed at the death of Mr. J. A. Creagh, late P.M. here, which occurred at Sydney on Sunday night. Deceased was nearly 26 years in the service.

Mr. D. S. Campbell, of the Works Department, has completed his inquiries in regard to the water supply question. He visited Orara to inspect the source of the proposed supply, also the hills at the back of South Grafton, where it is proposed to conserve water, and Swan Creek, where it is claimed a splendid site for a reservoir exists.

GRETA, Tuesday.

There is no fresh development so far re the Greta Colliery, which was sealed down at the beginning of December, although it is asserted that the fire is practically out. It is expected an effort will be made to reopen about the beginning of April. Nearly all the men working at the colliery have found work in the Newcastle district.

Anvil Creek Colliery, which closed several years ago, is to be reopened, and work is to start within a few weeks.

KATOOMBA, Tuesday.

The Archbishop of Sydney held confirmation services at St. Hilda's last night, when a large number of candidates were confirmed.

At an extraordinary election held yesterday for an alderman in place of the late Alderman H. E. Vaughan the poll resulted as follows:—E. T. Marx, 99; W. F. Goyder, 60; J. Blakey, 5.

LAURIETON, Tuesday.

The steamer Kincumber, with 49 of the Sydney unemployed on board, and the sailing vessels Amy Moir, Candidate, and Wanderer arrived in the bay yesterday, but, owing to the silting up of the bar, none of them could cross in, and it is not expected that they will get in till to-morrow. There was only 4ft. of water on the bar at high water yesterday, and unless something is done quickly to open the bar the result will be disastrous to the district. At a public meeting yesterday it was decided to ask that the dredge Neptune be sent here immediately. Unless something is done to afford relief five mills will have to stop work, throwing between 300 and 400 workers out of employment.

LITHGOW, Tuesday.

Burraga reports that a good many of the wood teams lately employed at the Lloyd Copper Company are discharged, owing to plenty of wood having accumulated.

LIVERPOOL, Tuesday.

The Mayor has received an intimation that the Railway Commissioners have decided to receive a deputation of residents of the Southern line between Liverpool and Granville relative to the altered train service as decided upon at a recent conference on the subject.

MOLONG, Tuesday.

A petition has been presented to the Minister for Works urging immediate repair of the road from Bowen Park to Orange.

NOWRA, Tuesday.

Mrs. Jessie Robinson, an old resident of the town, died last night, aged 72.

ORANGE, Tuesday.

Mr. King, police magistrate, has been promoted to Sydney.

Retreat is in progress at St. Joseph's Church, conducted by Father Hilary, of the Passionist Order. This week has been set apart for women, and next week for men.

A burglary took place on Sunday evening at the residence of Mrs. James Living, at Clinton-street, over £100 worth of jewellery being taken.

PENRITH, Tuesday.

The following nominations have been received for the three vacancies in the Penrith Council, viz.:—F. D. Woodriff, unopposed for South Ward; J. W. Dunkley and E. G. Cooper for North Ward; and Michael Long and E. K. Waldron for Castlereagh Ward.

QUIRINDI, Tuesday.

Ten young men have gone to Sydney to join the South African Contingent.

Last night whilst going home Frank Bruce died suddenly from heart disease. He leaves a widow and two young children.

Seven thousand sheep passed through Blackville from Dobickin, near Moree, for Glenmore station, belonging to Mr. Taylor. Rain is badly wanted, and feed is getting very scarce.

ROCKLEY, Tuesday.

Mr. W. A. Crawford was entertained at dinner on Saturday, and presented with a gold medal by the cricket club, prior to his departure for Katoomba Public School.

STROUD, Tuesday.

The annual meeting of the members of the School of Arts was held last evening. Mr. E. E. Mitchell was elected president, Mr. James Smith vice-president, and Mr. Charles M'Intyre secretary. Since last year a new piano and billiard table have been placed in the institution, which is in a flourishing condition.

TAMWORTH, Tuesday.

Mrs. Mason, who was burned on Saturday night when her husband's cottage was destroyed, is progressing favourably in the hospital.

WOLLONGONG, Tuesday.

Out of 39 men engaged on the local waterworks only three are non-residents.

In accordance with a generally expressed desire in and about town, the member for the district has requested the Minister for Public Instruction to have the cookery classes continued for at least another half-year in connection with the Superior Public school in Wollongong, with Miss Bailey as instructress. The request was complied with, and therefore the new term of cookery was entered upon yesterday by the lady named.

The Wollongong Council has agreed to co-operate with Northern Illawarra in the matter of urging upon the Minister for Works the desirability of establishing a tramway service from Thirroul to Wollongong, with branches to Balgownie and Keiraville.

Friday next has been proclaimed a holiday for men employed at Port Kembla and the waterworks.

The branch railway between Illawarra line and the Federal Coke Works is to be commenced at once, so far as the company is concerned. The Railway Commissioners will construct part of it within the railway fencing.

In regard to painting and renovating the Wollongong Post-office, the council has received a letter to the effect that funds are not yet available for the work.

Good progress is being made at the Proprietary Company's Bellambi coke works with the erection of the ovens, and it is expected that a trial of some of them will be made about March or April. Fifty ovens are being erected, and it is expected that half the company's coke supply will come from them. This would be a great saving to shareholders when the oversea freights and other charges connected with the foreign supplies are taken into consideration. At no distant date the whole coke supply will be drawn from their own works.

The new Friendly Societies' Hall was officially opened with a banquet last night. There was a large attendance. The president of the board (Mr. J. P. Galvin) occupied the chair, and toasts appropriate to the occasion were proposed, and a most enjoyable evening terminated with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The annual meeting of the Benevolent Society was held this afternoon, being presided over by Mrs. A. A. Turner. The annual report showed that although the demand on the funds for the relief of the poor and needy persons had been continuous and considerable during the year, no case worthy of assistance had been passed over for want of funds. By the generous liberality of the townspeople in the way of subscription and donations, and of the Government by endowment, together with economy on the part of the committee, expenditure has been kept well within the scope of income. During the year 411 relief orders were issued to 30 different families, which included 75 different persons. In rendering that assistance a total of £101 11s was expended, being £29 8s 3d more than last year. The following officers were elected:—President, Mrs. A. A. Turner; vice-presidents, Mesdames Hayles and Sutton; hon. secretary, Mrs. A. Campbell; hon. treasurer, Mrs. Fairweather; committee, Mesdames E. T. Miles, J. Gardiner, Darcy Irvine, T. Davies, J. ## COUNTRY HOSPITALS.

COOTAMUNDRA, Tuesday.

The hospital shows an accumulated fund of £585. It treated 106 patients. There were five deaths. Of twelve cases of typhoid none died. Owing to some charges being made by a member of the retiring committee as to the method of treatment of patients, it was resolved to investigate the matter. The meeting adjourned for one week to complete the election of officers.

FORBES, Tuesday.

The annual meeting of the members of the Forbes District Hospital was held this afternoon. Mr. A. J. Baldock was in the chair. The reports and balance-sheets were very satisfactory. Mr. J. D. Rand was re-elected president, and Messrs. W. Hall and C. Marshall were re-elected auditors. The trustees elected in accordance with the Act were Messrs. John Bodel, J. D. Rand, and Rev. W. J. Dunstan. For the committee of 15, 20 nominations were received, and a ballot takes place this day fortnight. A special vote of thanks was accorded to Dr. Cox, Mr. J. B. Reymond, M.L.A., and a deputation which visited Sydney and were instrumental in securing the inclusion on the Estimates of a vote of £2000 for the erection of new hospital buildings. Great interest is being displayed in the work of rebuilding, and it is probable the sum mentioned will be very largely supplemented by a sum raised by private subscription.

GLEN INNES, Tuesday.

The annual meeting of the Glen Innes Hospital was held last evening in the council-chambers, the president, Mr. John Rule, occupying the chair. There was a very large attendance of subscribers. The annual report of the committee showed that the institution had maintained its popularity, and was in a flourishing condition. The number of patients treated during the past year was 155, and 3086 beds were occupied, averaging 8½ patients per day. The number of deaths was 11, being two more than for the previous year. Several improvements have been carried out, including connecting the hospital with the residences of the medical officers by telephone. The Government made a special grant of £150 for the purpose of erecting an operating-room. In recognition of the splendid efforts of the friendly societies the committee has placed a bed in the hospital at their disposal. The treasurer's balance-sheet showed that subscriptions and donations received during the year amounted to £297 10s 7d, which amount includes £63 9s 8d. The result of the annual ball was £62 12s 1d, and the result of the Hospital Sunday demonstration carried out by the friendly societies, the maintenance fees, and the Government subsidy, &c., bring the total amount received from all sources to £791 18s 5d, as against £554 for the previous year. The expenditure amounted to £718 13s 6d, as against an average annual cost of £502 for the preceding six years. The amount contributed by patients was £167 5s 2d, averaging over £1 per patient, which is a matter of great satisfaction to the committee. The medical officers reported a serious outbreak of typhoid fever during the early part of the year, 25 cases being dealt with in the hospital without any fatal results. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, James Healy; vice-president, W. M'Coy; auditors, H. D. M'Kie and J. Smith; treasurer, G. J. Ramsay; trustees, G. Morris Simpson, John Rule, and W. Hodge.

The average cost of maintenance was £1 8s 4d per bed per week. During the year infectious wards were erected at a cost of £299. The balance-sheet showed a credit balance of £845 4s 9d. The following office-bearers were elected:—Trustees, Messrs. Charles Stockwell, John Black, James Lee, D. M. M'Callum, and Claude Smith; auditors, Messrs. S. F. H. Lane and Robert J. J. W. Yoe, D. Whyte, J. R. Ross, S. T. Bradford, M. Coen, T. T. Alkin, D. J. Lynch, G. W. Booty, J. F. Cripps, L. Trainor, T. H. F. Griffin, and B. J. Grogan.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

THE TURF.

Pony and galloway races will be held at Kensington to-day, the first event starting at 2.15 p.m. Special tram and omnibus services will as usual run direct to the course.

Intending visitors to the Newcastle races to-day are reminded that the train leaves the Redfern station at 9 a.m.

The following scratchings have been recorded in connection with the A.J.C. Autumn Meeting:—St. Leger: Chesilton, Verne, Haulette, Trophy, Apiary, and ch c by Gigue—Corday. Champagne Stakes: Pavilion, Newry, Cullarene, Beanba, Pukaki.

The Moorefield February Meeting, postponed from Saturday next, will be held on Wednesday, February 6.

For the Rosehill February meeting the secretary, Mr. J. Dennessde, yesterday received 121 nominations, being 22 in excess of the number for the corresponding meeting last year.

Mr. H. Seabrook has decided to name his three-year-old brown colt, by Ruenalf from Negress, Negrito, and his three-year-old bay gelding, by Niagara from Lolly, De Wet.

The following race meetings have been granted registration by the A.J.C.:—Canowindra J.C., Mummel, and Tarcutta.

Fortune Teller was yesterday struck out of the Flying Handicap, and Tasman out of the Moorefield Handicap, to be run in connection with the Moorefield February Meeting.

During the course of a hurdle race at Tumberumba last week some well-intentioned people re-erected some hurdles that had been knocked down by the competitors, and when the field came round the second time the obstacles had to be negotiated in their original state. At the conclusion of the race a protest was lodged on the ground that no one had a right to interfere or re-erect the fallen hurdles. The matter has been sent on to the A.J.C., and though that club has no rule directly bearing on the point, the secretary, Mr. Clibborn, finds that according to the Grand National rules in England hurdles or fences must be left untouched and unrepaired during the course of a race. Precedent here supports the protest, for on one occasion at Randwick the late James Ashworth re-erected some hurdles, and was reprimanded by the A.J.C. stewards for doing so. Mr. Clibborn considers it one of the unwritten laws of racing that hurdles or fences should not be interfered with from the time a race is started until it is finished.

In consequence of a heavy dew on top of a slight fall of rain the Randwick grass (middle) track was not in a condition for making fast times yesterday morning, but a useful lot of work was got through on it. Ferryman had the better of Spring Rose in a bout over six furlongs, which were run in 1 minute 22 seconds, and Spectation ran nine furlongs in 2 minutes 6 seconds. Idle Boy and Bullomin travelled over a mile at a useful pace, finishing strong and well, in 1 minute 53 seconds, while Hautain, Grasspan, and Equator ran down five furlongs in 1 minute 6¾ seconds. Morton and Pebble got over six furlongs in 1 minute 22 seconds, and Barbarossa, with the assistance of Lyddite and another, ran a mile in 1 minute 50 seconds. Lord Rudolph had the call over Boonal and Wedlock at the end of a mile run in 1 minute 51 seconds, while Whirlpool, Araina, and Siara ran six furlongs in 1 minute 22 seconds. Gamsboy ran a similar journey in 1 minute 21½ seconds, which was a quarter of a second slower than a trip over the same course by High Jinks and Lady Jewel. Iodine beat Acumen over six furlongs in 1 minute 23 seconds, and Pardon ran the same distance in 1 minute 22 seconds. Sterling beat Miss Melos over the six furlong course in 1 minute 22 seconds, and Euchre ran a mile in 1 minute 53 seconds. Zero, Ruskin, and Pretence did strong mile work, and Nevermore did a strong working gallop over the same distance. Isa and Redeemed ran five furlongs in 1 minute 8 seconds, and Planet got over six furlongs in 1 minute 21 seconds. Horeas II. did a working gallop over a round, and Aquila ran a mile in 1 minute 51 seconds. Sepia slipped over six furlongs in 1 minute 20½ seconds, and Noble Lady ran the same distance well. Khaki and Greeba ran the round at a working pace, as did Vocalist, April Fool, and Australian Colours. Severity went a couple of turns at under half-pace, and Yarrabee ran a mile at his best gait. Fulminate only cantered, as did Gauleon. Bizarre beat Watchfire over five furlongs, and Melossi beat Sweet Erina over six in 1 minute 22 seconds. Future took 1 minute 12 seconds to run five furlongs, and Caravel easily defeated the Gaillardia filly over the same course in 1 minute 9 seconds. Fladden beat Edna Lyall over a mile in 1 minute 52 seconds, and Kulaui travelled the round at three-quarter pace. Water Colour did a mile and a quarter working gallop, and San Fran had more to say than Iron Hoop and Captain Towse over a mile in 1 minute 53 seconds. Coralie and Bivalve were together at the end of six furlongs—run in 1 minute 23 seconds. Blue Metal was out cantering steadily, and Dandy beat Golden Ring over a mile and a quarter in 2 minutes 20½ seconds. Merlina travelled around at three-quarter pace, and Sequence did useful work.

VICTORIAN SPORTING NEWS.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

The V.R.C. committee meet to-morrow afternoon to allot new dates to those clubs whose meetings have been postponed in consequence of the death of the Queen. The metropolitan meetings put off were the Moonee Valley fixture for Saturday and the Williamstown fixture for last Monday, while the Geelong meeting, which was to have been held to-morrow, and the Aspendale Park meeting announced for next Saturday, also have been postponed.

There is a decided falling off in regard to the numbers in the general entries for the V.A.T.C. Autumn Meeting as compared with last year. This is probably accounted for owing to the unsettling effect the postponements of so many meetings in consequence of the Queen's death has had on racing. The shortage in the numbers is especially noticeable in the interstate division, only eight Sydney horses being engaged, and not a single entry came to hand from Adelaide.

The following additional scratchings for the V.A.T.C. Autumn Meeting have been posted:—Alma Stakes: Loyal Maid, Veneer, Bear, Shadowcatcher, Beau Hampton, Attica, Abbess, and Loirford. Oaklaigh Plate and Purse: Coralie and Alfonso IV. Futurity Stakes: Destroyer, Belemnite, Keuley, and Attica.

CRICKET.

BANKS' INTER-STATE CRICKET.

The idea of an annual Banks' Intercolonial, or, to call it by a more up-to-date name, "Inter-state," match was mooted for a very long time, but it was not until last year that it took anything like practical shape. The banking representatives of New South Wales last year journeyed to Melbourne, and won the first match. The Victorian banks can put an exceedingly strong team into the field, including as it does such prominent players as Hugh Trumble, R. W. M'Leod, J. D. Edwards (old Australian eleven men); Ainslie, of St. Kilda; Lewis, of University; Officer, of East, and Joyat, of South Melbourne; so that the best team obtainable in New South Wales will be needed to win. Messrs. J. C. Wilson, R. E. J. Lloyd, and O. A. Smith have been deputed to select the home team, and they hope to complete their task during the present week. The match will commence on the Sydney Cricket Ground on Thursday, the 7th proximo, and will conclude on the Friday.

CYCLING.

THE ANNUAL A.N.A. WHEEL RACE.

Owing to the sad calamity that has befallen us in the death of Queen Victoria the Melbourne A.N.A. sports have been postponed. The bicycle races to be held in connection with this gathering will probably be held on February 9 and 11.

LIGHTING OF THE ST. KILDA TRACK.

Efforts are being made to have an acetylene gas plant laid down on the St. Kilda (Melbourne) Cricket Ground and cycle track. A similar lighting plant has been in use on the Sydney Cricket Ground for some time, and has been a pronounced success. Should the St. Kilda Club succeed in raising the requisite amount of cash, the work will be proceeded with at once. The St. Kilda track is the best in Victoria, and if property lighted should soon recoup the club for its outlay in putting down the necessary plant.

AUSTRALIAN-BUILT MOTOR CAR.

A fine six-horse power motor car has just been built in Melbourne to the order of a Melbourne gentleman. The whole of the car has been constructed locally, the driving motor also being the invention of the builder. The car is capable of comfortably carrying four people, and is geared to drive 15 to 17 miles per hour on fair roads. The advent of this car marks a new era in motor construction, for if it successfully fulfils its inventor's claims, then it will play an important part in European motor circles. The motor is driven by ordinary kerosene, and it is claimed that it leaves no unpleasant smell when treated by the Sutton patent. An experimental tour will be taken by the owner and designer at an early date throughout the Western district of Victoria.

ACETYLENE LAMPS.

A great mistake is commonly made by users of acetylene lamps of filling the carbide chamber too full. The ashes occupy almost one-third more space than the original carbide, and it is therefore a good policy never to have the space for the carbide more than half full. Again, when filling the lamp with water it is a good idea to add one part of glycerine to three parts of water. The result of this combination is to cause a much steadier generation of the gas, preventing the spluttering and jumpiness in the flame often prevalent in even the best acetylene lamps.

MOTOR CAR ON THE AUSTRALIAN ROADS.

Further evidence of the utility of the motor car for use on Australian roads was provided last week, when a party, consisting of Messrs. W. J. Proctor (of the Dunlop Tyre Company), T. Rand and W. Salter, went through from Warrnambool to Melbourne (165 miles) in a day. The car used was a De Dion Bouton Voiturette, 3½-horse power, with seating accommodation for three people. The car left the seaside resort at 5 a.m., and made good progress throughout, averaging about 17 miles an hour, riding time. Stops were made at Colac (72 miles) and Geelong (119 miles) for breakfast and dinner respectively, Melbourne being reached at 10 minutes to 7. The actual riding time on the road was a few minutes over nine and a half hours, the fastest riding being 22 miles in an hour. The motor consumed 5 gallons of petrol, costing 10s, and a quart of lubricating oil, worth 9d, so that the actual cost per person works out at about a farthing a mile for the ride up.

MOLONG, Tuesday.

A bicycle race was run to-day for £10 a side, 1½ mile, between W. Dillon, of Parkes, and Joseph Smith, Nymagee. After an exciting race Smith won by a wheel.

BOWLS.

The members of the City Bowling Club are now busily engaged with the annual prize competitions, the various matches being watched with a great deal of interest.

The prizes which are now being played for are the president's, vice-presidents', and Williams' trophies, all single-handed handicaps of 31 up. The president's, presented by Mr. H. Chapman, M.L.A., consists of trophies valued at £5 5s and £2 2s; the vice-presidents' (presented by Messrs. Glenister, Small, Hawse, and Fernsberg) of trophies valued at £4 4s, £3 3s, and £1 1s for first, second, and third respectively; and the Williams' (presented by Mr. John Williams) of £3 3s and £2 2s. The first round of the champion medal will be drawn during the week, the prizes being a gold medal, value £5 5s, and a £2 2s trophy for the runner-up. New players are given a chance in the novice handicap, in which only those who have never won a prize are eligible to compete. For this competition £5 5s of the "Sandeman trophy" has been set apart, the remaining £10 10s being devoted to a full-rink tournament, open to all full members of the club.

YACHTING.

ROYAL SYDNEY YACHT SQUADRON.

The race for the Gascoigne Cup, the fixture on the squadron's programme for Saturday next, has been postponed.

SAILING.

SYDNEY DINGY CLUB.

The Brisbane dingies at present visiting Sydney will be given an opportunity of trying conclusions with the pick of the local fleet this afternoon, when scratch races for the 14ft. and 10ft. classes will be sailed under the flag of the Sydney Dingy Club. The prize money for both events, which has been donated by Mr. S. Hordern (commodore P.A.Y.C.), totals £12, and of this amount the winner of each race will receive £4, while the second boats will be awarded £2. The course set down for the 10-footers is from Fort Denison, round the Watson's Bay Pile-light, thence round Shark Island and finishing at the starting line. The larger class are to sail the same course, but in addition will round Fort Denison and Shark Island a second time.

In the 14-footers' event the northern craft Etna (F. E. Shaw) and Violet (T. Crouch) will meet the local cracks Ena (B. B. Lloyd) and Clio (W. Dunn); whilst in the 10-footers' race Queensland will be represented by Daisy (O. Homann) and Iduna (F. T. Yarrow), and the home fleet by Ina (A. S. Andrews) and Planet (T. Cuneo).

The steamer Greyhound has been chartered to follow the races, and, as advertised, will call at the usual Balmain wharfs, and leave Circular Quay at 3 o'clock.

INSTITUTION OF SURVEYORS.

The annual general meeting of the Institution of Surveyors of New South Wales was held at the rooms, Queensland-chambers, Bridge-street, last night. The president (Mr. G. H. Knibbs) occupied the chair, and there was a moderately large attendance of members.

The report of the council stated that the total membership on January 31, 1900, was 278. Regret was expressed that many members did not regard the institution in a proper light, and did not take more interest in the profession to which they belonged. They appeared to overlook the fact that the principal object of the institution was to do everything necessary in the interests of the profession. Despite the apathy displayed by a number of the members the prospects of the institution were at present brighter than they had been for several years past. The balance-sheet showed a credit balance.

The president, in moving the adoption of the report and balance-sheet, called the attention of members to the serious loss suffered from the absence of any definite system of landmarks adequately protected by legislation against wanton or unauthorised disturbance. A proper system of landmarks was absolutely necessary to make the boundaries of properties free from all uncertainties as to position. He also alluded to the desirability of creating an office of Surveyor-General to the Commonwealth. Under federation, he stated, it was desirable that the whole of the surveys throughout the continent should be under general control and carried out under a definite and comprehensive system, for only in that way could the results best be reached. It would be necessary in the near future to carry out military surveys, which formed a necessary part of any scheme of protecting our territory from foreign invasion, and such surveys would necessarily have to be carried out under federal control. If they were executed on the one plan military operations would be much facilitated. Referring to the education of surveyors, he pointed out that universities could undertake the entire education of surveyors if chairs of geodesy were established, as the institutions were already equipped in every other respect.

Mr. T. F. Furber seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, Mr. G. H. Knibbs, F.R.A.S.; vice-presidents, Messrs. Frank Clarke, M.L.A., Algernon Peake, A.M.I.C.E.; hon. secretary, S. R. Dobbie; treasurer, H. F. Halloran; editors of "The Surveyor," Mr. T. F. Furber, F.R.A.S., Mr. T. H. Loxton; business manager, Mr. E. C. Hughes; auditors, Messrs. H. Shute and A. Alexander; councillors, Messrs. S. F. Von Arnheim, E. A. Bonney, G. H. Halligan, C. C. Bullock, Stephen Mills, and W. H. Howard.

A vote of thanks to the retiring officers and to the chairman terminated the meeting.

THE CAUSES OF PROSPERITY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In your leading article of the 28th instant these words occur, "It will not be denied that the causes of the prosperity of a people are largely apart from the question of protection or freetrade." In a letter signed C. R. Staples, in your issue of the 26th instant, the writer deals with that view of the subject in an able manner, showing that in less than 30 years New South Wales raised from borrowed money and land sales nearly 40 millions sterling more than Victoria from these sources. That statement is not denied, nor can the influence of that £40,000,000 be denied when contrasting the prosperity of one colony with the other. The only thing I have to ask is why Mr. Staples, while in the right direction, did not include the comparative value of natural products raised in both colonies which have not been influenced by either freetrade or protection during the same period. Add the difference in favour of New South Wales, and instead of that colony having an advantage of £40,000,000 it will, I have a just right to assume, be nearer £150,000,000 for the period stated, not one penny of which can be attributed to her fiscal policy, and which as a matter of fact would have been raised as well without a fiscal policy as with one. To prove this statement it is necessary to refer to statistics. It would be occupying too much of your valuable space to produce figures for 30 years; I will therefore content myself by referring back to 1886, covering about one-half the period under question. In that year the excess of the value of such produce in New South Wales was nearly £4,000,000; multiply that by 30, and we get £120,000,000. We will now take 1899, the last year we have figures for. That year this colony raised from sources uninfluenced by her fiscal policy nearly £7,000,000 worth more than Victoria from similar products. If we multiply that by 30, the answer is £210,000,000. Now, strike a mean between the two, and we get £165,000,000. I have not got the figures for the first year, viz., 1870, and therefore cannot draw exact conclusions. Add for land sales and borrowed £40,000,000, and it will be safe to say that this colony has had, covering a period of 30 years, at least £150,000,000 more than Victoria from sources other than those influenced by either freetrade or protection.

The following figures for 1899 will show the basis upon which this statement is made, and which refer to the production of wool, gold, silver, tin, copper, coal, and other minerals, the value of which bear out your statement that the prosperity of a people is not due to either freetrade or protection:—

| Colony. | Wool. | Gold. | Silver. | Tin. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | £ | £ | £ |
| N.S.W. ... ... | 10,020,495 | 1,757,815 | 2,070,657 | 91,689 |
| Victoria... ... | 5,701,410 | 3,418,000 | 10,886 | 11,29[illegible] |

| Colony. | Copper. | Coal. | Other Minerals. |
|---|---|---|---|
| N.S.W. ... ... | 395,451 | 1,375,799 | 446,312 |
| Victoria ... ... | ... | 113,522 | 25,170 |

| | N.S.W. | Victoria. |
|---|---|---|
| Minerals ... ... ... | £6,080,516 | £3,579,322 |
| Wool ... ... ... | 10,020,495 | 5,701,410 |
| Total ... ... ... | £16,101,011 | £9,280,732 |

Balance in favour of New South Wales for 1899, £6,820,279. In stating that New South Wales has had £150,000,000 more than Victoria from similar sources I feel certain the amount is an under estimate, but if it is too great to please some of my fiscal friends they may reduce it to please themselves by one-half; there will still be enough left to satisfy all reasonable-minded men that the prosperity of this colony has not been due to her fiscal policy, but to her superior natural resources. The fiscal question has been the enemy of progress, and promises to continue so. Any settled policy would be a thousand times more preferable than this continued wrangle, which may suit some politicians, but is not for the welfare of the country. If the best and most capable men would unite for that purpose we would be on the sound road to prosperity. I am, &c.,

Federal Elections.

FEDERAL PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE PARRAMATTA ELECTORATE.

GENTLEMEN,—

I am a candidate for your suffrages at the forthcoming Election for the Federal House of Representatives. I am a Freetrader, and I believe the policy enunciated by the Right Hon. Edmund Barton to be the policy most fitted for the young Commonwealth, and Mr. Barton will have my strongest support.

I am in favour of Australian productions of every sort, and if you elect me as your representative shall give my special attention to the development of the varied industries that have started, or are about to start, in Australia.

I am in favour of the Federal Government taking over the Railways of all Australia, and working the same to assist our own productions by minimum freights; carrying such products to market at the very lowest possible cost.

In and around the Parramatta Electorate have been started Coal, Coke, Iron and Steel, Copper, Machinery of various kinds, Soap, Oil, Leather, Woollens and Tweeds, Fruit, Jam, Pottery, Lime and Cement, and many other industries which require developing. I consider that if Mr. Barton's policy is carried out we can have as varied and successful industries in the Electorate as in any part of the world, giving constant employment at good wages to tens of thousands of men.

I am against any direct Taxation by the Federal Government, but shall insist that sufficient revenue be raised every year to pay all debts incurred.

I approve of railways through Australia connecting the Capitals from Perth to Brisbane.

I approve of the Federal Conciliation and Arbitration Act. I believe in Wages Boards consisting of equal numbers from masters and men, with a Chartered Accountant and a President for each particular trade to deal with the question in dispute before appealing to the Act.

I believe in Adult Suffrage.

I am decidedly in favour of the exclusion of undesirable immigrants, irrespective of colour; my object being to have a healthy and prosperous white Australian race.

I consider the Federal Parliament should be carried on as a successful business is carried on; divisions of Departments, and suitable men appointed for such Departments.

As a business man of solid practical experience I cannot forget that we have now a population of some four million souls, and I will leave no stone unturned to secure for Australia the labour and wages necessary in the manufacture of our own requirements, and I shall not rest satisfied until Australians are able to produce all their wants in time of Peace or War.

I place myself in your hands with best wishes for the new Commonwealth, and trusting to receive your support in my earnest desire to secure Australia for the Australians.

I am, yours faithfully,
W. SANDFORD.

DEATH OF SIGNOR VERDI.

Italy has lost her foremost composer, and the world an illustrious man, by the death of Giuseppe Verdi. "Il cigno di Busseto," as his countrymen called him, is no more, and the musician named "Ultimus Romanorum" by Rossini himself has now followed to the tomb the master minds of the past half-century in the domain of music. Three great composers of the Victorian era have especially made their impress upon European art. Wagner, the most powerful, and soon to be the most popular, was the first to go; Gounod was the next to join the great majority; and now Verdi, full of years and honours, has likewise passed away. All three musicians laboured far into the evening of their lives. Gounod had passed his sixtieth year when he wrote "The Redemption," Wagner was in his seventieth year when he composed "Parsifal," Verdi was nearly 80 years of age when his genius blossomed once again in the vivacious music of "Falstaff." Still, Verdi had partly entered upon his rest for long years before that. In 1871 his "Aida" was produced at Cairo, after which, during 16 years, he only added the Manzoni "Requiem" (first performed in Australia last year) to his list of important works. Then came "Otello," to the libretto by Arrigo Boito, after Shakespeare's tragedy; and finally the "Falstaff" already mentioned in 1892. It was not to be expected that the veteran would do more. He was born at Roncole, near Busseto, on October 9, 1813; yet even now it would not be surprising to learn that before his death he had completed another opera on a Shakespearian subject. His friend Boito, the great Italian poet, and composer of "Mefistofele," had provided him with a libretto on King Lear, concerning his progress with which conflicting rumours have filled the Italian papers these three or four years past.

Verdi had entered, then, upon a period of comparative rest nearly 30 years before his death. We are to picture this loved personality in retirement at his farm and villa of S. Agata, which he purchased as long ago as 1849, and where he led the life of a quiet country gentleman. Though the late King of Italy created him a Senator in 1874, and showered honors upon him, the composer likes to be called simply Signor Verdi. In the same way, S. Agata itself is quite retired, and almost hidden by trees. Some years after the tragedy of his life, by which his wife and little children were carried off by a fever, Signor Verdi married Mme. Strepponi, the famous soprano who, in 1842, created the chief character in "Oberto," the great composer's first successful work. No children have resulted from this union. But Signor and Signora Verdi have passed a happy life at S. Agata, where the maestro was accustomed to rise at 5 o'clock, looked round his estate, devoted an hour or two to letter-writing, and retired early to rest. Signor Verdi has generally spent the winter months at Genoa. Always generous and charitable, one of his most recently completed acts has been the establishment of a Home for Poor Musicians, near Milan, which he richly endowed. We read, too, of the pension he bestowed upon Piave, librettist of several of his operas; and Signor Hazon has told us of the generous way in which Signor Verdi defrayed a portion of the cost of his musical education at Milan Conservatorium. Thus we gain a vivid personal impression of the great composer whose works have so long occupied the mind of Australian operagoers.

The episodes of Verdi's early life are full of interest, and have been carefully recorded by M. Pougin in Fetis's "Dictionnaire des Musiciens," in a published pamphlet signed "Folchetto," and in a long account which Signor Verdi himself furnished to Giulio Ricordi, the publisher. Verdi's parents kept a small inn and general shop in the village of Le Roncole, which was replenished by purchases at the house of a merchant named Barezzi, who lived three miles away at the town of Busseto. Barezzi was one of the first to detect Verdi's musical genius, and helped him in many ways. At 10 years of age the child Verdi was appointed organist at the church of Le Roncole at a salary of £1 8s 10d a year. Later still he became attached to the Busseto Philharmonic Society; thence he was assisted to Milan, and then returned to Busseto, where he married Barezzi's daughter. "They were married in 1836. The whole Philharmonic Society attended the wedding; it was a happy and glorious day, and all were deeply moved by the prospect already opening before the young man, who, though born in the poorest condition, was at 23 already a composer, with the daughter of a rich and much respected man for his wife." Verdi himself relates how he lost this beloved wife and his two children at Milan three years later. "Oberto" was produced, the bereavement followed, and Verdi describes how, after a long period of wretchedness, some sacred words in the libretto of "Nabucodonosor" touched his heart, and enabled him to resume his career as a composer.

The position occupied by the deceased musician in the world of art may now be considered. When Rossini described Verdi as "the last of the Romans," he probably meant that he himself having ceased to write, and Bellini and Donizetti being dead, Verdi was the last of that race of Italian composers who, since the early days of the century, had kept all Europe provided with operatic music. We have seen how Verdi's once dominating position—for he was famous 50 years ago—has since been shared by Wagner and Gounod, and we have also noted that Wagner's star is still in the ascendant. Young Italy, too, may have much to say hereafter through Mascagni, Leoncavallo, Coronaro, and that younger generation which Henrik Ibsen tells us "comes knocking at the door." Yet Verdi's place in the history of music must always be accounted that of successor to Donizetti and Bellini, and if not absolutely the greatest of latter-day musicians, he has been assuredly the most widely popular. It has been truly said of Verdi that for 50 years there has not been an opera house in the world where a season passes without at least one performance of "Rigoletto," "Traviata," or "Trovatore." These are Verdi's three great operas, just as Donizetti left behind him "Lucia di Lammermoor," "Lucrezia Borgia," and "La Favorita," whilst Bellini is remembered by "Sonnambula," "Norma," and "I Puritani." But whilst the three operas first quoted are eminent in popularity over others he has composed, Verdi will also be remembered for many years by "Un Ballo in Maschera," "Ernani," and "Aida." During his long life Verdi composed in all only one instrumental quartet, no sacred music of importance except the "Requiem," and few drawing-room pieces. But he produced 30 operas, so that a good many failures have to be recorded. Amongst the better-known works of those that appear to be fading into oblivion mention may be made of his first opera, "Oberto Conte di S. Bonifacio" (1839), "Nabuco," "I Lombardi," "Luisa Miller," "La Forza del Destino," and "Les Vepres Siciliennes." Some critics have affected to recognise three different styles in Verdi's operas, in which the third and most refined embraces only his four last works, "Don Carlos," "Aida," "Otello," and "Falstaff." Signor Giannandrea Mazzucato explains, however, that the differences are slight, and merely answer to "the refinement of musical feeling which audiences gradually underwent during the 50 years of the artistic career of the great composer; he spoke a higher language because that higher language had become intelligible to the public; but what he said the first day is what he always said, and what he will say again if he should ever break his long silence. Verdi will always rank amongst the greatest composers of operatic music of all ages and amongst all nations, because seldom, if ever, are to be found such truth and power of feeling expressed in a clearer or simpler way."

AMUSEMENTS.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.

There will be a matinee performance of "Australis, or the City of Zero," at Her Majesty's Theatre to-day. The last nights of this beautifully staged spectacular extravaganza are now announced, as a revival of "Djin-Djin," Messrs. Bert Royle and J. C. Williamson's Oriental burlesque, revived and brought up to date, will take place on Saturday week.

THEATRE ROYAL.

"Maritana," which drew a large audience at the Theatre Royal last night, will be repeated there to-morrow and on Monday. This evening Mr. George Musgrove will again stage Wagner's beautiful opera, "Tannhauser," whilst Friday and Tuesday will be devoted to "Lohengrin," for which many written requests have been made, and Saturday to "Carmen."

PALACE THEATRE.

Monday next being the twentieth anniversary of Mr. W. F. Hawtrey's appearance on the stage there will be produced a one-act play entitled "A Highland Legacy," by Brandon Thomas, to precede "A Message from Mars" on that night only. In this play the following artists will appear:—Messrs. T. Holding, Percy Walshe, J. B. Challon, H. J. Preston, Misses Hilda Wright, Winifred Austin, and Mr. W. F. Hawtrey. This afternoon there will be a matinee of "A Message From Mars," which is still proving attractive at the Palace Theatre.

TIVOLI THEATRE.

At the Tivoli Theatre Mr. Harry Rickards notifies the last nine nights of "Puss in Boots," of which the usual extra performance will be given this afternoon. The pantomime burlesque, brightly played by a strong company headed by Miss Billie Barlow, has enjoyed a long season, and will doubtless run strongly to its close.

LYCEUM THEATRE.

The last three nights of "The New East Lynne" are in view at the Lyceum Theatre, where Mr. J. F. Sheridan and Miss Gracie Whiteford are now terminating their season in order to fulfil engagements at Newcastle, Bendigo, Ballarat, and ultimately Perth. On Saturday Mr. William Anderson's dramatic company will open at the Lyceum in the new military drama, "The Ladder of Life."

CRITERION THEATRE.

W. J. Lincoln's new sensational drama, "The Bush King," is proving popular at the Criterion Theatre. The Australian "colouring" of the piece forms an element of attraction, and the plot providing a vast amount of changeful incident, the whole seems likely to fill Mr. Alfred Dampier's theatre for some time to come.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETIES' CONCERT.

As will be noticed by referring to our amusement columns, Miss Maud Fitz-Stubbs, who has charge of the musical arrangements of the concert that is to take place in the Sydney Town Hall to-night, in aid of the above fund, has prepared a programme likely to meet with the approval of a popular audience. The price of admission to all parts of the hall, 1s, is also likely to prove a potent factor in attracting a good house, the more so as each patron will receive a ticket entitling him to a chance in the Art Union of 100 prizes. The artists appearing this evening will be Misses Daisy Davies, Eva Mylott, Maud Fitz-Stubbs, Kate Hancock, Alleen and Doris Woods, Messrs. E. Stevenson, N. Gehde, and the Meisterzinger.

NEWCASTLE.

THE CITY FINANCES.

STATEMENT BY THE MAYOR.

NEWCASTLE, Tuesday.

At to-night's meeting of the City Council the Mayor (Alderman David Miller) made an important statement in reference to the financial position of the city of Newcastle. He said that the present municipal year was commenced with an overdraft of £5000, and was now ending with an overdraft of £7000. The council was going to the bad to the extent of £800 or £900 per annum, and the time had arrived when the aldermen should seriously consider the position of affairs. The expenditure exceeded the income year by year to the amount of £400 or £500, in addition to which a sum of about £400 derived from the rents of the Market-square property was annually appropriated. The council had for some years been enacting a farce in connection with the electric lighting system by limiting the rate charged to 3d in the £, whereas a rate of 4d or 4½d was needed in order to make the system self-supporting. No other council in the State would attempt to carry on this way, and the rate should be immediately increased. The council had recently experienced some difficulty in raising a loan of £5000, and the reason was not far to seek. It was true that the income of the council was very large, but nevertheless the expenditure yearly exceeded the receipts, and at the end of every year there was a debit balance. These statements passed into the hands of financial men, and they at once recognised the position of the borough, hence the difficulty experienced in securing loans at moderate rates of interest. If the affairs of the city were carried on in a proper manner by keeping the expenditure within the limits of the income, the council would have no difficulty whatever in raising a loan of £10,000 or £15,000 whenever required. (Hear, hear.) It was a standing disgrace to the council that the city of Newcastle did not possess a Town Hall. (Hear, hear.) The council-chambers would seat only about 50 or 60 persons, and when a public meeting of citizens was called it was necessary to rent a hall. The sum of £450 annually derived from the rents of the borough square property would pay the interest on a loan of £12,000 or £13,000, with which a town hall worthy of the city could be erected. (Hear, hear.) These rents, however, were applied year by year to paying interest on the electric lighting system, which ought to be made self-supporting. He trusted that the aldermen would carefully and seriously consider these facts, and that his suggestion would be acted upon in the new municipal year.

A mayoral minute was read intimating that satisfactory arrangements had been made with Messrs. J. Mullens and Co., brokers, of Sydney, for a loan of £5000, and that the amount would be available on the 4th proximo. The duration of the loan would be five years, and the interest payable would be 4 per cent. per annum.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

The final meeting of the City Council for the present municipal year was held in the Council-chambers to-night. The Mayor, Alderman Miller, presided. A letter was received from the Under-Secretary for Public Works, intimating that the sum of £1000 voted by Parliament for effecting improvements to the Ocean Beach at Newcastle was now available. The estimated cost of the Ocean Beach improvement scheme in its entirety is £6000, and the council resolved to proceed at once with the first section of the work.

Additional letters were received from the following municipal councils, announcing their willingness to co-operate with Newcastle in approaching the Government by a monster deputation on the subject of municipal endowments, viz.:—Illawarra, Wagga Wagga, St. Peters, Five Dock, Plattsburg, Woollahra, Mudgee, Marrumurrah, Moree, North Sydney, Temora, Cudgegong, Unanderra, Kempsey, Alexandria, North Botany, Canterbury, Grenfell, Rockdale, Blayney, Coonamble, Junee, East Orange, Parkes, Condobolin, Greta, Lane Cove, South Shoalhaven, Warren, Kogarah, Bankstown, Hill End, Liverpool, Camperdown, Queanbeyan, Nowra, Leichhardt, Bathurst, Waverley, and Wickham.

THE COAL EXPORT TRADE.

The ship Balclutha arrived to-day from Port Pirie to load a cargo of coal from the Waratah colliery for Honolulu. The steamer Romulus sailed for Mauritius with 4150 tons of Pacific Co-operative coal; the steamer Mambare took her departure for the New Hebrides with 450 tons, and the steamer Maroo left for Noumea with 1500 tons. The barque Josefa cleared at the Customs-house for Valparaiso with 1227 tons of Duckenfield coal, and the four-masted barque City of Adelaide cleared for Honolulu with 1174 tons of Waratah coal.

In the inter-state trade the schooner Ururoa sailed for Gisborne (N.Z.) with 298 tons of coal; the steamer Elingamite left for Auckland, via Sydney, with 750 tons; and the steamer Willyama took her departure for Fremantle with 4000 tons.

POLITICAL LABOUR LEAGUE.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE.

The annual conference of the Political Labour League, which commenced on Saturday last, was continued last evening. There was a large and representative attendance, including several members of both Houses of the State Parliament, and Mr. E. Riley presided. The discussion of the various clauses of the business paper was continued.

The executive's report, which was read during the session, dealt with the work done by the league during the past year, and embodied many comments and recommendations on the political policy and other matters. The report showed that part of the work undertaken by the league had been delegated to the Australian Workers' Union, owing to an insufficiency of funds to cope with the whole of the duties which it was desirable to carry out. The union had undertaken the organisation for political purposes of all the territory worked by its branches on industrial lines, with the exception of the Barrier district and the coastal areas, including the metropolitan, the Newcastle, and the Illawarra groups of electorates, of which the league retains control. The insufficiency of funds was deplored, and the report enforced upon the members the desirability of increasing the finances, and so enabling the candidates to show a bold front at the forthcoming federal elections.

The Old Age Pension Bill received notice, and the report claimed that it had been originated and developed by the labour portion of the community. The pension was considered insufficient, and the age limit too high, and it was recommended that the labour party should leave no stone unturned to improve its conditions. The inability of the Government to pass the industrial bill was strongly criticised, and it was thought that the labour members could have displayed more energy in that cause.

The fact that labour is only represented by five members in the Legislative Council out of a total of 74 was commented on with regret, and the report on that subject read—"The last vestige of excuse for a second Chamber vanished with the accomplishment of federation, and your executive regrets that this view was not placed more prominently before the people during the session just closed." The report claimed that the ultimate decision arrived at in connection with the cable contract was due largely to the influence of labour circles.

A perusal of the report indicated that the league had the labour party in Parliament under close attention. The attendance of individual members at divisions had been carefully noted, and showed that the body as a whole was 18 points ahead of any other party in the House in that respect. The attendance of members at the meetings of the executive also received notice, and it was considered unsatisfactory. This led to a discussion, and resulted in a vote of censure being passed on those members who had not been present at seven meetings during the year. The report was then adopted.

When the conference was resumed the various clauses of the business paper were read and discussed. The debates were of an interesting character and covered many labour questions. Last night Messrs. A. H. Griffith, W. M. Hughes, M's.L.A., Mr. H. Lamond, and many others addressed the conference. The greater part of the evening was occupied in discussing the federal candidates' pledge, which will be submitted to the inter-State labour parties. It reads as follows:—"I hereby pledge myself not to oppose any selected labour candidate. I also pledge myself, if returned to the Commonwealth Parliament, to do my utmost to ensure the carrying out of the principles embodied in the federal labour platform, and on all such questions to vote as a majority of the federal labour party may decide at a duly constituted caucus meeting." Several amendments were proposed, but with one exception were defeated. The amendment carried added the words "comprised of members who have signed this or a similar pledge."

Clause 7, which specified "that a new plank be placed on the platform and fighting platform to provide for the abolition of the duty on tobacco, cigars, and cigarettes," was ruled out of order. The committee which was appointed to draw up a municipal platform reported that in consideration of the time at the disposal of the league, and under the existing law, it would not be advisable to form such a platform. The report was received.

The meeting adjourned till Thursday evening.

ENGLISH CHURCH UNION.

The monthly meeting of the Council of the English Church Union (N.S.W. branch) was held on Monday evening. The chairman (Mr. H. Tennent Donaldson, J.P.) presided. The opening office was said by the Rev. E. B. Proctor, V.C. A considerable amount of correspondence was dealt with, including letters from several bishops of the province. The reply of his Excellency the Governor-General to the address presented to him by the E.C.U. was read by the hon. secretary. The question of the precedence of the heads of the Anglican and Roman Catholic Churches was discussed, and the hon. secretary was directed to take certain action in the matter. The proceedings concluded by the recital of the usual office by the rev. the vice-chairman.

MASTER CARRIERS' ASSOCIATION.

A special meeting of the Master Carriers' Association was held on Monday night. There was a large attendance of members, and the chair was occupied by Mr. J. M'Mahon. The new regulations governing the heavy traffic of the city streets were discussed at considerable length, and were condemned by the speakers. The chairman said that the closing of Pitt-street to heavy traffic was the source of great inconvenience and increased labour to the carriers of Sydney. The traffic between the wharfs and the Redfern railway station was particularly heavy, and the grades in Castlereagh-street would not permit of full loading. Several other speakers addressed the meeting, and it was decided to form a deputation on the subject to the State Colonial Secretary.

BENEVOLENT SOCIETY OF N.S.W.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual general meeting of the above society was held yesterday afternoon at the institution, Pitt-street, Sir Arthur Renwick, M.D., M.L.C., presiding. There was a large attendance.

Sir Arthur Renwick, in opening the meeting, said that in view of the death of her Majesty the Queen the meeting would not have been called at this particular time, but the directors were bound by the rules of the society to hold the meeting. However, if it was the pleasure of those present the meeting could be adjourned for a fortnight, but probably if their late Sovereign could express a wish she would say, "Do your duty," and they might pay more respect to her memory by carrying on the annual business as hitherto. (Hear, hear.)

The report of the directors for the past year stated that the support from all sources had been equal to that of previous years. A special grant of £1500 had been made by the Government for out-door relief. Other items of increased income had been £3062, as against £2863 in 1899, from the Government for maintenance; an increase of £153 in ordinary subscriptions, and of £828 in legacies. The marked decrease in poverty, as indicated by the society's out-door relief department, had continued in a very satisfactory degree. The highest ratio of pauperism in proportion to the general population for many years prevailed from 1896 to 1898. Throughout 1899 there was a weekly average reduction in the cases relieved by the society of no less than 278, which had been still further reduced during the past year by 63. There was a slight decrease in the number of women admitted into the lying-in branch as compared with the figures of the previous year. In 1899 the number of women admitted was 244, of which 46 were married and 198 single. During 1900 the admissions numbered 233—35 married and 198 single women. The out-door maternity branch had been more largely availed of during 1900 than in the preceding year. In 1900 there were 30 cases, against 26 in 1899. The directors wished to see this division as widely applied as possible, because it provides for attendance of midwives, and when necessary of the medical officers, upon poor married women in their own homes. The death rate was unusually low, the most noteworthy feature being the large decrease in the number of children who died from marasmus. The home returns showed that during the year 409 women and 628 children had been admitted, and 218 children were born in the asylum. There remained in the institution on December 31, 1900, 57 women and 87 children. In the outdoor relief department during 1900 the cases visited and reported upon numbered 5669.

The Chairman moved the adoption of the report and balance-sheet. The institution, he said, was one of the oldest in the province, it having been established in the reign of the Georges, and had carried on its beneficent work during the sovereignty of William IV. and Queen Victoria. As he had prophesied at the previous annual meeting, the Government intended to resume the property in order to construct a large railway station, and the society was now in a peculiar difficulty, as it had not received from the State Government definite information as to how long it would be permitted to remain on the existing site. He was glad to be able to say that the society financially was in a much happier condition than it had been for many years past. The overdraft had been reduced to a manageable amount, and it was the intention of the directors within a few months to resume a branch of work which had been discontinued, namely, the granting of small amounts of money to assist in the payment of house rent. (Hear, hear.) There had been a steady diminution in poverty during the last three years in New South Wales, and in Sydney particularly, which he attributed to the beneficent work in regard to State aid to children of destitute widows, or deserted wives of respectable character. Notwithstanding the forebodings that occurred in respect to this system of boarding out children with their own mothers, the work had been carried out in a most satisfactory way. An immense amount of good had been done, and the results would be greater in the future. He also thought the Old-age Pension Act would do a great and beneficent work, but that the number of claims upon it at the inception would be more than had been anticipated. He referred to various phases of the society's work, particularly the lying-in hospital, and expressed a hope that if the State established such an institution it would be wholly managed by women. The diminution in the death rate was high testimony to the ability of the medical staff, the matron, and nurses. He mentioned the services of the late Mr. E. T. Penfold to the society, and concluded by saying that it would be a calamity if by any means the institution was prevented from discharging the noble work it had undertaken for so many years. (Applause.)

The Rev. Canon Boyce, in seconding the motion, said that he was glad to hear that there was a prospect of the society again assisting poor widows with the payment of their rent. His experience was that it was impossible for many women with families to get along by simply giving them rations. He hoped the society would receive full compensation from the Government for the resumption of its buildings, and hoped that the new building for the institution would be erected close to the centre of population. Its success in the past had been due to its headquarters being close to the poor of the city.

The motion was unanimously agreed to.

On the motion of the Rev. Mr. Holliday, the thanks of the meeting were given to Parliament, and also to the public, for the grants, subscriptions, and donations of the past year.

The meeting unanimously requested the chairman to continue in office as president, Mr. U. W. Carpenter as vice-president, and Mr. H. W. Hammond as hon. treasurer (in place of Mr. W. Henson, resigned).

Messrs. W. Crane, J. Ewan, H. Hargreaves, D. Davis, J. M. Sandy, and J. Gregg were re-elected under bylaw 49, and Drs. Crago, Foreman, and Graham were re-elected as the honorary medical staff. Thanks were accorded the medical staff for their valuable gratuitous services during the past year, and to the ladies' committee for their valuable services in connection with the lying-in department. Mr. Alfred E. Allen and Mr. H. M'Bain Gardiner-Garden, executors under the will of the late Miss S. M. B. Tyre, were appointed life governors under bylaw 11.

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE.

In a general order published yesterday the G.O.C. places on record his appreciation of the valuable services rendered by Captain and Temporary Major G. H. Walton Smith as acting principal medical officer to the military forces from January 17, 1900, to the 21st instant, and publishes for general information the following letter received from Sir George Turner, Premier of the State of Victoria:—"On behalf of this Government I desire to express high appreciation of, and cordial thanks for, the admirable arrangements made by your Government and the military authorities for the reception and entertainment of the Victorian troops, and the courtesy and consideration shown by the railway officials of your State during the recent visit to Sydney, in connection with the Commonwealth festivities." The G.O.C. has been pleased to approve of the appointment of Staff Squadron Sergeant-Major H. Arnold, permanent staff, attached to 1st Australian Horse, to be Acting Regimental Sergeant-Major of that regiment.

DEATH OF A SHIPOWNER.

The news of the death of Mr. John Fenwick, which occurred at his residence, Belmore, yesterday, was received with expressions of deep regret in city shipping circles. For several years Mr. Fenwick had retired from active business life, and though he was daily to be found at his Bridge-street offices the business of Messrs. John Fenwick and Sons was left in the hands of the latter, Mr James and Mr. Andrew Fenwick. The late shipowner was a colonist of nearly 52 years' standing, having arrived here from Scotland in 1849. Like his father, he took up the shipping and ship-building business, and with his brother, the late Mr. Thomas Fenwick, of the Richmond River, devoted his energies chiefly to the construction and proprietorship of tugboats and boats for supplying the shipping with fresh water. He was probably the first tugboat owner in Port Jackson with the screw steamer J. and T. Fenwick in 1870. Before that date the shifting of ships from wharf to stream and vice versa was accomplished by means of their own canvas. Under the style of J. and T. Fenwick a flourishing business was established and conducted for many years. Then the brothers separated, one taking up the northern river business, and the late Mr. John Fenwick remaining here. Since the days of the tug J. and T. Fenwick the late shipowner has either solely owned or in conjunction with others 18 tugboats of various sizes, inclusive of the imported powerful steamers Hero, Newburgh, and Leveret. Amongst the last of the harbour steamers he built was the Dayspring, a vessel which he subsequently sold to the Government. Mr. Fenwick was a native of Newburgh, Fifeshire, and was born on May 15, 1836. He was twice married, and leaves a family of eight, three by his first wife, and five by his second wife, now a widow. For a long time he suffered from chronic bronchitis, upon which pneumonia supervened, ending in his death. The funeral will take place at Belmore to-day.

THE WHARF RESUMPTIONS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Will you kindly allow me, as a considerable property-holder in the vicinity of the wharfs resumed by the Government, to enter my protest against the delay shown by Sir William Lyne in settling satisfactorily the matter of the Harbour Trust. I am, &c.,

OUR LONDON OFFICE.

The LONDON OFFICE of "The SYDNEY MORNING HERALD" and "The SYDNEY MAIL" has been REMOVED from QUEEN VICTORIA-STREET to Larger and More Convenient Premises in CHEAPSIDE.

The Full Address is 40 KING-STREET, CHEAPSIDE, LONDON, E.C.

The Sydney Morning Herald.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1901.

Much formal and picturesque ceremony marked the swearing-in and proclamation of the King. Our cable messages afford an abundance of detail.

Directly after the oaths of office were taken the Deputy-Garter King-at-Arms read the proclamation of accession from the balcony of St. James's Palace.

Lord Roberts and many high officers of State were present, and when the proclamation was read there came, as if from an echo, a fanfare of trumpets and the singing of the National Anthem.

A red cordon stretched across the Strand. At Temple Bar the Lord Mayor and Corporation awaited the proclaiming procession, which was headed by the Earl-Marshal (the Duke of Norfolk).

When the procession arrived a herald, clad in a rich tabard, read the proclamation. The crowd loudly cheered, and a Royal salute of 101 guns was fired from Aldershot.

In the Prayer Book the prayer for the Royal Family has been altered. Instead of the words "Royal Family," the King and his Councillors have substituted "Our Gracious Queen Alexandra, the Duke George of Cornwall and York, and the Duchess of Cornwall and York."

Some newspapers, including the "Times," are agitating to secure the widening of the Royal title, so as to comprehend in its description Australasia and other dependencies of the Crown.

Judges and King's Counsel have been re-sworn. Masonic bodies will observe mourning for three months.

Emperor William has made the King an Admiral in the German Navy. In recognition of his devotion to his grandmother the Queen and his mother the Empress Frederick, King Edward has made the Emperor a Field-Marshal in the British Army.

King Edward VII. began his message to Parliament with the statement that he was conscious that Parliament would share his and the nation's deep sorrow.

He was sure that the Queen's devotion to the welfare of the country and the people, her wise and benevolent and glorious reign, would ever be held in affectionate memory.

Parliament cordially cheered the King's message, and then passed motions of congratulation and condolence. Lord Salisbury was during his speech almost overpowered with emotion.

On the coffin of the Queen at Osborne the King had placed the diamond crown used at the drawing-rooms, and also the insignia of the Garter.

Four Grenadier Guards stood motionless, one at each corner of the coffin, their arms reversed.

Russia has gone into mourning for three months, Malta for six weeks. Boer prisoners near Green Point, Capetown, have suspended their amusements till after the funeral.

Burghers in Pretoria showed respectful sympathy. Dutch churches in Capetown were draped in black, and the Dutch and British sincerely united in mourning.

Cardinal Vaughan has issued a pastoral eulogising the Queen.

English competitors and several Australians abstained as a sign of mourning from competing for the 2000 guinea pigeon prize at Monte Carlo, of which the Victorian shot, Mr. M'Intosh, was regarded as the probable winner.

Queen Victoria's body is to be interred at Frogmore, where the Royal mausoleum is.

The remains will be removed from Osborne to Windsor on February 1. At sea the coffin will be borne by the Royal yacht, Albert and Victoria, which will be escorted by the Channel Squadron.

On Friday night the Royal yacht will pass between a double line of warships, which will fire minute guns.

At the express wish of the Queen she will be accorded a military funeral. It is stated that her Majesty largely directed the plans to be adopted for her funeral.

There will be no lying in State excepting that the coffin will be at the improvised chapel at Osborne for some time.

On shore the coffin will be drawn by the late Queen's eight cream ponies. Members of the Houses of Lords and Commons will meet the coffin at Victoria station and march to the Paddington station. The King and Lord Roberts will ride at the head of the procession.

The American National Congress of Mothers has sent a touching cablegram of condolence to the King, and King Edward has acknowledged President M'Kinley's message of sympathy.

All the evidences point to the belief that practically the whole civilised world feels sorrow at the Queen's death.

It is reported that his medical attendants despair of Mr. Kruger's life.

Of the western commando of invaders part is moving south to the Doorn River, and part is marching to Degrift and Brand-vlei. The eastern commando is marching to Oudtshoorn, which is strongly occupied by the British.

Part of the commando recently engaged by Lord Methuen, west of Taungs, has re-entered the Transvaal colony.

Lord Kitchener reports that the raiders are doing little harm, residents not joining them.

General Cunningham, moving from Olifants Nek southwards, has defeated the invaders at Middlefontein.

General Knox has successfully attacked Commandant Haasbrock's laager.

Commandant de Wet is between Winburg and Ladybrand, north of Bloemfontein.

Mr. C. J. Lotter, a member of the Cape Assembly, has been arrested on a charge of having aided the Boers.

A patrol of 25 police has been captured at Maraisburg by a greatly superior force of Boers.

Additional Boer prisoners, to the number of 1335, have been landed at St. Helena.

Lord Kitchener has issued a special general order, in which is expressed the great grief of the army in South Africa at the death of Queen Victoria.

On Wednesday last, Lord Kitchener, with a number of troops, proceeded by train in the direction of Middelburg. The armoured pilot engine, which preceded him, was derailed by dynamite near Balmoral. The train containing the troops was fired on by a number of Boers, who were repulsed with loss.

The members of the Boer commandos boast that, since their women and children are provided for, they have no cares and that they will continue to fight with determination.

The Boers at Slypklip captured a train containing cattle and provisions from Kimberley. The British sent an armoured train with 200 infantry in pursuit, and the cattle were re-captured.

On Wednesday 400 Boers attacked 120 New Zealanders and Queenslanders patrolling the railway near Balmoral. Everything depended upon who first seized a kopje commanding the railway and the camp; the colonials secured the point and held it till reinforced.

On Friday General Cunningham engaged Commandant Delarey at Kofferfontein. Colonel Babington threatening the flank, the Boers retired in a westerly direction.

General Smith-Dorrien, after a five hours' fight, defeated a considerable force of Boers between Wonderfontein and Carolina.

The Boers have summarily ejected all British subjects from Pietersburg.

THE OUTLOOK FOR PEACE.

It would appear that the state of tension existing between the Dutch and the British elements of the South African population has been relieved, at least in part, by the appeal to the common sympathy by the death of the Queen. We learn by cable, in what reads like a significant sentence, that the two sections in Cape Colony are sincerely united in sorrow and mourning. It is also reported that the burghers at Pretoria and Bloemfontein show respectful sympathy, and that even the Boer prisoners are testifying in their own way the feeling evoked by the news. The Dutch churches, which we were accustomed to regard as centres of sedition, are draped in black. Without attaching too much importance to these indications of respect for the Queen's memory, it is perhaps not too much to assume that they bear witness to a kindly feeling at least, and to a certain sympathy between the two races in their common sense of loss. Many circumstances have conspired to rive the races asunder, but the melancholy event which has evoked an echo of mourning from all the world seems in this instance to bring them again together. If the hope could be indulged that the nation's loss might prepare the way for a better understanding between the Dutch and the British in South Africa, it would be difficult to imagine anything more calculated to have cheered the last moments of the Queen. But that is too much to anticipate at the present juncture. As the "Times" fairly states the case, it is none the less imperative that the war should be sternly prosecuted so long as the enemy remains in the field, and it is just a little odd that the cables quoted should be accompanied by another message describing the enveloping movement by which it is hoped to crush the Boer advance into Cape Colony.

The prospect for peace depends entirely on the Boer perception of the hopelessness of their struggle, and the true nature of the terms offered them. To this the feeling of sympathy now awakened may help to pave the way, and the situation elsewhere is not without indications that some of the Boer spokesmen are beginning at last to realise the gravity of the tragic error under which they have laboured. That, for example, is a pregnant admission made by the peace delegate Wolmarans, whose name has been prominent for many months past. Writing from Paris a candid expression of opinion to his relations at Heilbron, in the Orange River district, he sums up the result of his experience gained in Europe by the terse remark that he can testify that "our leaders have been stuffing us with lies." There is no beating about the bush here, and the pity is that Mr. Wolmarans did not make or proclaim his discovery a little sooner. He has allowed time for the recrudescence of the campaign, when a few plain statements like this from him and others might have shown the Boers still in the field the hopelessness of the struggle into which they had been led by the fables of their leaders. If Mr. Wolmarans is referring to the hollowness of the hopes of European support on which the ex-President rested, that bubble has been pricked long ago. Nothing could be plainer than the advice of the German Chancellor in August last, to accept the British proposals because any action on the part of the Powers would not only be without result, but fraught with danger to the Republics. This only echoed the sense of previous advice from the same quarter, and it must have been apparent from the outset that neither Germany nor any other Power could have taken any other course, in the light of Great Britain's express declaration, without the imminent risk of precipitating war. It must have been equally obvious that neither the chance of success nor the result to be gained would have encouraged any one of the Powers to press its services as arbitrator upon Great Britain, when such a course of action would at once have been construed as an unfriendly act. The failure of Mr. Kruger's mission, and in particular the unmistakable rebuff he received from the Kaiser, must by this time have convinced him of the hopelessness of his quest and of the struggle which still exacts its toll of lives of brave men on both sides in South Africa.

The case for those of the Boers who favour capitulation and the cessation of hostilities will probably be strengthened by the report in this morning's cables respecting the failing condition of the ex-President. Although he has withdrawn from South Africa and counselled his burghers that they must decide for themselves when they will relinquish resistance, it cannot be doubted that he continues to be a disturbing element in the situation. His removal will prepare the way for consideration of the cooler counsels of men like Paul Botha, whose pamphlet, "From Boer to Britain," has commanded a large measure of recent interest. From the point of view of this old Free State burgher and member of the Volksraad, the Kruger policy was wrong from the beginning, though backed up by expensive armament and other war preparations. Now that the policy has been put to the test and its failure proved, Botha is satisfied that just government, in the hands of capable men like Sir Alfred Milner, observing uniformity of treatment and keeping a firm hand on the rein, will speedily control and satisfy the Boers. His advice to his countrymen is to recognise that peace and prosperity are possible for South Africa under no other flag than the British. He frankly tells his compatriots that they have been duped, that advantage has been taken of a people isolated on the veldt, and that the mistakes of the Boers themselves have made them the dupes of ignorant leaders. If the Boers still in the field have the opportunity of placing words like these beside the recent British proclamations and the conditions of progressive self-government which Great Britain is prepared to concede when the country is pacified, there might be little room for doubt as to the outcome. The determination of the commandoes to fight on, as announced in our cables this morning, is probably the result as much of ignorance as of courage, and the case for peace only requires to be heard to ensure acquiescence from all but the fanatical.

THE SCIENCE OF DIETETICS.

It is a chastening experience of mankind that a strict attention to what it eats and drinks is necessary for the preservation of its comfort. Someone has spoken of reaching the soul through the portals of the body, and there seems truth in the observation. Neglect of our physical well-being tells swiftly on our mental state. To maintain the dual equipoise we must come back to the ancient and well-known formula. But while most people recognise this in theory the practice is too often a sorry performance, and we saddle ourselves with a thousand ills that might be avoided. We have occasional reminders of our lapses when those in a position to speak with authority take us to task and point out the error of our ways. At times the advice tendered is conflicting. Now we are told that we eat and drink too much; again that no hard and fast rule can be made in these matters where so much depends on constitution and temperament that there is something in the adage that what is one man's meat is another man's poison.

Those who look for guidance in these matters should welcome the appearance of Dr. Robert Hutchinson's admirable book on "Food and the Principles of Dietetics," which provides in not too technical a form a mass of valuable information. Vegetarianism is a subject about which there has been much controversy, and concerning it the author's opinions are worth quoting. A purely vegetable diet, he tells us, both from chemical composition and digestive absorption, is apt to be deficient in proteid, so that the question of vegetarianism resolves itself into one of nitrogen supply. "The consistent vegetarian," he says "is thus placed in a dilemma. He has either to live on a diet deficient in proteid, or to consume an excessive bulk of food." His advice, therefore, is for him to supplement the vegetable diet by animal substances rich in proteid. On the subject of drinks there is much interesting discussion. Tea and coffee claim special notice, and the hints given for their proper making are important. With regard to tea he says,—"The tea should be really infused, not boiled or stewed, as is so often the case. The character of the water is of the first importance. Prolonged boiling makes it flat by driving off the dissolved air. Hence, water should have just freshly come to the boil. . . . Infusion should be of limited duration—not more than four or five minutes. . . . When the process is completed the liquor should be poured off into another hot teapot." If tea is often spoilt in the making, coffee usually receives much worse treatment. We are told that the secret of having it good is to make it strong and to serve it hot. He says: "We mostly fail in this country by not using enough. Two ounces to the pint is the smallest proportion which will give a good result. It is important that the coffee should be freshly roasted, for its fragrance is quickly dissipated on keeping. . . . Three parts of milk to one of coffee is about the proper proportion for cafe au lait." A caution is administered to avoid the use of tea and coffee at regular meals where meat is partaken of. Coming to alcohol, he characterises it as a food in the scientific sense of the term, though practically he does not consider it a food of any great value. He reminds us that "the habitual consumption of alcohol in quantities which, though insufficient to produce any of the outward and visible signs of intoxication, are yet beyond the immediate oxidising power of the cells may end by playing havoc with the tissues." Malt liquors are the most truly nourishing, for a pint of good ale contains as much carbohydrate as one and five-eighths ounces of bread. But even these beverages have their drawbacks, for owing to their being "bulky" liquors their plentiful use introduces a large amount of fluid into the circulation, and the effort to expel this surplus fluid throws an extra strain on the heart, which may be very injurious if that organ is already damaged.

The subject of diet, however, is puzzling even in the light of the excellent advice tendered by one so experienced as Doctor Hutchinson. A generous course in which meat predominates is condemned, while vegetarianism is full of obvious drawbacks. Tea and coffee, it seems, are to be taken with extreme caution, for they can become stimulants dangerous to the nervous system. Spirits are viewed with scant favour, and malt liquors are so "bulky" that they tend to produce or aggravate heart troubles. The path seems thorny whichever way we turn. In the end, perhaps, we come to see that the highest wisdom is summed up in the dictum, Follow your own instincts, but do all in moderation. This was the advice of Sir Francis Laking, one of the most eminent of those who at one time attended on her late Majesty the Queen. Being asked to give some rules of life for those whose conditions were normal, he replied: "Do anything you like, but do nothing to excess. People nowadays put themselves to extremes, and they become ill by excesses, not by deficiences. Moderation should be the rule of life." Another distinguished physician, Sir Samuel Wilks, interrogated on this subject, answered in the same strain. Habit, he said, was a great deal; it was second nature. Everyone had a natural temperament, let him follow that and avoid excesses. "In the last three or four centuries we have done better intellectual work than ever before, and these have been the times of tea, coffee, tobacco, and alcohol. What can you make of that? It is surprising. Again, I say, follow your instincts." The doctrine is a comforting one, and it commends itself to our reason. It falls in, too, with our experience. It seems impossible to lay down any set of definite rules capable of universal application. The most we can do is to live as simply as possible in accordance with our particular habits of life. And, in the opinion of the eminent authorities quoted, if we do this we shall not be far wrong.

THE CAUSES OF PROSPERITY.

In a letter appearing elsewhere Mr. Mark Hammond alleges that we have not denied that New South Wales raised from borrowed money and land sales £40,000,000 more than Victoria. Regarding £15,000,000 of the sum, representing this colony's excess of public borrowings, we distinctly stated that the amount was more than offset by the larger borrowings of the private capitalists of Victoria, Mr. Pulsford giving figures in proof other than those we had at hand in support of the statement. As to the £25,000,000 derived from the public estate in excess of the amount obtained by the sister colony, we have shown that that simply represents accumulations that would otherwise have been spent by those who bought the land. Under a better law, by which people would have been induced to improve and cultivate the land, the value of the wool, wheat, butter, and minerals derived from it would have far exceeded the amounts stated. To say that the large productions which have contributed so much to the prosperity of New South Wales have been uninfluenced by either freetrade or protection is surely a mistake. If the protectionists had succeeded in their efforts in this colony as they did in Victoria, the exports of our produce would have been much smaller in amount. The labour employed in their output would have had much less satisfactory sterling results to show from the manufacture of matches, clothing, jewellery, or any other commodity stimulated into existence by heavy protective duties. While perhaps nothing could have prevented New South Wales from occupying the premier position in a race with her southern neighbour, the freedom given to her people to produce the raw materials which in such large amounts our correspondent counts to her credit greatly assisted her, while on the other hand the restrictions imposed on the Victorian grazier, farmer, and miner, in the added cost of clothing, food and implements, seriously hindered the sister colony, and prevented her making a satisfactory presentation. Had Victorian politicians left the people free, with light taxation such as we have in New South Wales, that colony would not have lost so many people as it has within the past ten years.

THE BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

The most interesting point in the report of the directors of the Benevolent Society of New South Wales for the past year is undoubtedly the indirect testimony which it bears to the prosperity of the State. We are assured on undoubted authority that there has been a steady diminution in poverty during the past three years. An institution of this kind is a valuable touchstone in this regard, inasmuch as citizens will only seek its aid when all other sources of maintenance are closed to them. Naturally there is an element of publicity about the application for relief at the Benevolent Asylum from which persons shrink until necessity compels them to put their pride in their pocket. We are glad to believe that the officials, as well as the governors of the institution, take every possible means to conserve to applicants for relief that degree of self-respect without which the sure foundations would be laid for a pauper population. Fortunately the condition of affairs has been so prosperous here during late years that there have been remarkable reductions in the number of applications for outdoor relief. Thus throughout 1899 there was a weekly average reduction in the number of cases relieved by the society of 278, and throughout 1900 a further reduction of 63 has been made. In other respects also the Benevolent Society of New South Wales may congratulate itself upon good work done during the year in the care of the sick, the relief of the destitute, the nurture of poor mothers and their babies, and in other ways. No matter how prosperous a community may be there is always scope for the operations of a society of this kind.

The New Zealand Cable.—The Eastern Extension Company's cable steamer Recorder, after completing coaling and taking in supplies, left yesterday to pick up and repair the cable between La Perouse and New Zealand. A defect is said to have developed about midway along the route. The Recorder returns to La Perouse to assist in removing the cable to the new station.

Rumoured Reconstruction of the Cabinet.—It was stated in political circles yesterday that when Sir William Lyne resigns his office as Premier and it becomes necessary for the Cabinet to be reconstructed, it is probable that the Hon. W. H. Wood, the present Minister for Justice, will not seek re-election as a member of the State Parliament, but will prefer to contest the Eden-Monaro seat in the House of Representatives. The Premier, when asked last night if this was a fact, stated that he had no news to give upon the subject, but indicated that Mr. Wood might possibly adopt the course referred to.

State Executive.—A meeting of the State Executive Council was held yesterday, the Lieutenant-Governor presiding. Only formal matters of administration were dealt with.

Compulsory Arbitration.—At a meeting of the Executive Council yesterday it was decided that Judge Backhouse should be appointed a commissioner to make inquiry concerning the effect of compulsory arbitration in the other colonies in connection with the bill which was recently brought before the legislature of New South Wales by Mr. B. R. Wise, providing for the introduction of this system here.

An Australian High Commissioner.—The Federal Premier upon being seen yesterday stated that no administrative action whatever had been taken by the Federal Cabinet. So far nothing had been done with regard to the appointment of a High Commissioner in England, and it would be necessary to consult the Cabinet before any steps in this direction were taken.

Resignation from the Legislative Council.—In the Government "Gazette" issued yesterday it is announced that Mr. James Blanksby has resigned his seat in the Legislative Council.

The Public Library Inquiry.—The hearing of the charges formulated against certain members of the staff of the Public Library was continued yesterday before Mr. H. F. Barton, Master in Equity. Evidence was given in support of the charge of disloyalty and conspiring to induce a person outside the service to bring accusations against Mr. H. C. L. Anderson, chief librarian. Messrs. T. L. Millar, E. A. Withers, A. Gilchrist, and A. F. Briggs, library assistants, were examined, as was also Mr. F. M. Bladen, public librarian of the lending branch, and Mr. H. C.

Anderson. The evidence adduced at the previous inquiry was tendered, and the reading of that testimony was continued, after which the Court adjourned until the following day at 10.30 a.m.

The Royal Agricultural Society.—His Excellency the Governor-General has accepted the position of one of the patrons of the Royal Agricultural Society of New South Wales.

Export of Poultry.—Mr. Fegan, Minister for Agriculture, has ascertained that supplies of poultry for export are now coming forward so freely at the Government Export Depot that it will be necessary to discourage further deliveries for the next week, all available space being at present occupied. A large number of poulterers are working at high pressure, but the supply is so great that it is found impossible to keep up with it. Producers and shippers would therefore do well to keep back any further consignments for at least a week, after which all stock received will be dealt with in rotation until such time as freezing facilities can be provided.

The Health of the City.—The Mayor (Dr. James Graham, M.L.A.), speaking of the health of the city yesterday, said that the report of the city health officer for the month ended December was of a most satisfactory character. The number of typhoid cases reported was very much smaller than during the same period of last year; but there was a striking difference in the localities where it made its appearance. He pointed out that in the area forming Denison Ward only one case had been reported. There was also one case reported from Belmore Ward, and two cases from Lang Ward. The falling off of the number of cases he attributed to the drastic measures taken during the plague scare. The bulk of the cases, he added, were reported from a quarter of the city where persons would least expect to find them.

Queensland and the Plague.—The Board of Health, at its meeting yesterday, decided to recommend the rescission of the proclamation declaring Queensland to be an infected place. From official sources it had been learned that the last case of plague there occurred 35 days ago. The requirements of the New South Wales Government that vessels arriving in this colony from Queensland ports should produce certificates of disinfection done in Queensland, and that vessels leaving outwards for that colony should be fumigated before departure, ceased on the 24th instant.

The Mail Steamers.—The English mail this week is late, not being expected for delivery here until Friday next. Yesterday the Warrimoo, in the Canadian-Australian line, left the quay for Vancouver, via Brisbane and Honolulu, and the E. and A. Company's Airlie, for China and Japan, was seen away by a good many friends of passengers. To-morrow the Japan liner Rosetta Maru is to leave the quay for Manila, Hongkong, and Japan, and the German mail steamer Darmstadt is due here from Bremen. The Armand Behic, in the Messageries Maritimes line, is due this week from Marseilles. Messrs. Gibbs, Bright, and Co. have received a cable stating that the E. and A. Company's Eastern, from Sydney, arrived at Hongkong on the 26th instant.

The San Francisco Service.—The new steamer Sonoma, the second of the trio of 6000 tons fast vessels, specially built for the express service between San Francisco and Sydney, left the Golden Gate last Thursday on her maiden voyage. The pioneer boat, the Sierra, was lately here. The third steamer, the Ventura, is to follow the Sonoma, thus displacing the Alameda (now in port) as the last of the old and popular line of Oceanic Company's vessels. The Alameda entered Sutherland Dock yesterday afternoon for painting and cleaning, and will come out again this afternoon. She will berth at the west side of Circular Quay, and sail from there on Saturday next.

The Devonshire-street Cemetery.—Some time ago it was decided to convert the Devonshire-street Cemetery into a central railway station, and the work of removing the remains of those who found their last resting-place there has commenced. The Government has accepted the responsibility of removing the remains from the cemetery, but the Mayor (Dr. James Graham, M.L.A.) and the council have decided to exercise some supervision over the operations. The Mayor stated that he recently paid a visit to the cemetery and found that many of the graves were so overgrown with weeds and bushes that the gravestones were absolutely hidden. That made it very hard for people to find the graves of their friends, and he suggested that the Government should be asked to clear the ground, so that people looking for a grave could see at once whether the stone bore the name of the deceased person they were in search of. Several complaints have reached the Mayor from persons who were unable to find the graves of their relatives and friends.

The Northern Rivers.—Steamer traffic is being seriously affected just now by the shoaling of the bars of several of the Northern rivers. The shipping telegrams yesterday showed that steamers were unable either to cross out with their cargoes of produce or to enter with their inward freight of merchandise. The manager of the North Coast S.N. Company yesterday received amongst other messages the following from the master of the steamer Rosedale:—"Bellinger bar shoaled 4ft. in the channel on Monday, so returned to the bay. The pilot says there is no prospect of crossing the bar till Wednesday."

British Solomon Islands Protectorate.—In yesterday's "Government Gazette" was published, by the direction of the Lieutenant Governor, a Queen's regulation prohibiting the unauthorised occupation of waste lands in the British Solomon Islands Protectorate. Persons desiring to occupy waste land must apply through the Resident Commissioner for a certificate of occupation from the High Commissioner for the Western Pacific. The form of application contains provisions for the payment of rent and an expenditure upon improvements. All rights to minerals and precious stones are reserved.

Art Society.—A meeting of the council of the Art Society was held on Monday last, when Mr. Lister Lister presided, and there was a large attendance of members. It was decided that the exhibition being closed in consequence of the death of the Queen, it should not be reopened. The following pictures were sold during the last few days, in addition to those taken as prizes in the art union:—"For Sale," F. P. Mahony, £21; "A South Sea Islander," J. A. Bennett, £10 10s.; and "Watson's Bay," W. Lister Lister, £5 5s.

Rescue from Drowning.—On Sunday a plucky rescue from drowning was made at Parkesvale by a young man named Edward Burnside, a resident of Phillip-street, Balmain. A little boy named Clarence Collins fell into the water, and, without divesting himself of any of his clothing, Mr. Burnside jumped in and rescued him. Mr. H. Froude applied himself to the task of restoring animation, and succeeded in his efforts, after about half an hour's work.

A Harbour Fatality.—Shortly after the steamer Narrabeen left Manly on the 8.30 p.m. trip yesterday a young woman was seen to fall overboard. A boat was immediately launched and the body was recovered, but all efforts to restore animation failed. On arrival of the Narrabeen at the Quay the woman was taken to the Sydney Hospital, where life was pronounced extinct. The body was removed to the South Morgue, and the Coroner was informed. Deceased was about 22 years of age.

In our advertisement columns Messrs. William Howard Smith and Sons invite competitive designs for a coal poster.

We are requested to state that Messrs. Llewellin and Co., jewellers, &c., 177 Pitt-street, have obtained the contract for the manufacture of the medals to be presented in connection with the recent Commonwealth celebrations.

THE FEDERAL CONTINGENT.

THE DRAFT HANDED OVER TO COLONEL LASSETTER.

The Royal Agricultural Society's Ground, Moore Park, displayed a busy scene yesterday, when progress with the drafts was made and the important business of handing over a part of the Federal Contingent to Colonel Lassetter by Major Boam was accomplished. Four complete companies of 116 men, who will have five officers over them, were formed up, and men who had previously been acquainted—companions in private life, or who came from the same parts of the country—were directed to fall in together so that in camp life and on active service they might keep in close touch with one another. The idea is that chums will do better together, the experience being gained during the recent campaign. The squadrons were divided into four troops, and the whole of them are now under Colonel Lassetter as part of the Federal Contingent.

Major Boam still remains staff officer of the draft, but the final batch will shortly be passed on to Colonel Lassetter. All the men who were needed have now been selected, with the exception of a few who have to pass the riding tests, and Major Boam desires it to be generally known that there is no room for any more. Only ticket holders or men from the country specially authorised, can now be admitted to the draft. The draft was under close examination yesterday, and drill occupied the officers a great portion of the day. It may be mentioned that the time occupied from the day when the first lot of men was dealt with to yesterday when the four squadrons were handed over to the contingent commanding officer was 14 days.

Seventy-three men were put through the medical tests, and 60 passed the examination conducted by Dr. Maber and Lieutenant Hughes yesterday.

The riding tests carried out under Major Lee resulted in the passing of 41 out of 43 men. The riding yesterday was regarded as exceptionally good by the examining Major.

The clothing for the contingent will be ready on Friday. The contract is being executed by Mr. C. Anderson, and the Parramatta Woollen Mills Company. The clothing for the draft will be ready next week.

All the required horses have now been purchased and the men were instructed in various branches of duty amongst them.

The 19 applicants for commissions in the contingent were subjected to a vigorous drilling during the day by Regimental Sergeant-major Holman, under the personal supervision of Colonel Lassetter. After drill they were instructed in their duties, and four were ordered to remain in camp for the night. They are to be taken out at 5 a.m. for drill before the regular drill routine of the men commences to-day. All but one of the 19 passed the riding tests.

Three officers reported themselves yesterday on probation for commissions. They were Major Burnage, Lieutenant Heery, and Mr. Donald Cameron.

The following men were enrolled yesterday in the No. 2 division draft:—W. J. Abercrombie, F. C. Adams, W. A. Armstrong, G. Betts, W. H. Black, W. R. S. Berry, J. W. Bartlett, A. H. Butcher, W. Burnett, H. Boon, W. Bell, H. J. Butler, W. S. Cripps, J. W. Cousley, E. A. C. Corlette, C. Charet, E. T. Collins, A. Cheeworth, G. Courtney, J. Cook, J. F. Douglass, H. M. Druitt, J. Elliott, M. Edmonds, J. T. Foreman, M. Fitzgerald, W. Forster, G. Geering, H. Griffith, F. A. Grinstead, W. H. Glenfield, H. J. Gibb, H. Gutteris, J. Hart, S. J. Horton, P. T. Holm, W. Harris, J. Hehir, H. Johnston, C. Jennings, T. H. Kelly, J. Lucas, P. J. Leahy, W. A. Masters, E. Mason (bugler), W. H. Marshall, D. M'Donald, T. O'Brien, M. O'Neill, F. O'Rourke, N. Price, R. L. Powell, T. Pullen, A. Platt, A. P. Radburn, R. J. Roy, G. J. Riley, H. M. Reid, D. L. Smith, G. J. Smallwood, A. Scott, D. Stuart, E. W. Stevens, R. Smith, C. W. Smith, G. A. Taylor, N. Taylor, J. P. Tacerty, W. Tully, W. H. Verrender, H. S. Walsh, M. J. Webb, G. R. Wells, E. T. Williams, A. H. C. Waine, G. J. Whittaker, C. B. Wickins, R. G. Young, S. A. Yarrow, A. Young.

The large tent erected by the Y.M.C.A. authorities in the centre of camp at the Agricultural Grounds is being largely availed of by the men, who express themselves as greatly pleased with the facilities provided. Some thousands of letters have been written in the tent, which is thronged night and day with the troops. Services are conducted every night, bright music being provided by the Y.M.C.A. choir and singers from some of the churches.

Sir William Lyne yesterday received a message from Capetown stating that the steamer Templemore had left Durban on January 27 with the view of taking on board the Queensland Contingent for South Africa. It is understood that arrangements have been made between Victoria and South Australia to take over 1000 men and horses to South Africa. With regard to New South Wales, if only 1000 troopers and horses are sent two troopships will be required, but if double this number are forwarded additional accommodation will be necessary. Arrangements will soon be made for the transport of the troops to South Africa.

PRESENTATION TO CAPTAIN NICHOLSON.

There is on view in John Sand's window, George-street, an artistically illuminated address which the New South Wales Lancers recently presented to Captain Nicholson. The returned Lancers who were members of Captain Nicholson's Contingent and others temporarily under his command in South Africa, desire thereby to place on record their appreciation of his many sterling qualities and the esteem in which he is held. The inscription is outlined with a Grecian arch, the entablature being surmounted with the Australian arms draped with the flags of the nation. A figure stands in front of the right-hand pillar holding a laurel wreath, symbolical of success. On the opposite pillar suspended by ribbons is the badge of the New South Wales Lancers draped with flags, and below a flaming torch beside two which are extinguished, signifying the victor and the vanquished. At the base the Royal coat of arms, and below a spirited trifle depicting the battle of Belmont, where the Lancers were first under fire. As she did not return after the expiration of eight or nine days her husband became alarmed, and search was made, but ultimately abandoned, as no trace of the missing woman could be found. Last week, however, a man employed cutting Bathurst burr near Lara, about 11 miles from Beaudesert, found the wasted remains of the missing woman under a gum tree. LONDON, Jan. 25.

The remains of her Majesty Queen Victoria will be removed from Osborne to Windsor on February 1, via London. The Channel Squadron will escort the vessel conveying the body from the Isle of Wight to Portsmouth.

The funeral will take place at Windsor and the interment at the Royal Mausoleum at Frogmore on February 2.

Her Majesty expressed the wish for a military funeral. This request is interpreted as being a proof of her love for the army of which she was technically the head.

Mr. Henry Purcell's music will be conspicuous at the burial service.

The German Emperor, the Crown Prince William of Prussia, Princess Henry of Prussia, Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria, the King of Portugal, the King of Greece, the King of the Belgians, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, the Duke of Aosta, the Duke of Chartres (Bourbon Orleans), Duke Arnulf of Bavaria, the Grand Duke of Hesse, the Crown Prince of Denmark, and many other representatives of the royal families of Europe will attend the funeral.

All the available men-o'-war are assembling at Spithead to participate with the Channel Squadron in escorting the vessel which will convey the remains of her Majesty from the Isle of Wight to Portsmouth.

Jan. 26.

The Grand Duke and Duchess Serge will represent the Czar of Russia at the funeral.

The naval authorities of France and other Powers will also be represented.

The members of the House of Lords and of the Commons will meet the coffin at Victoria station, and march in procession to Paddington station. The coffin will be borne on a gun carriage. The obsequies in London will partake largely of the character of a military pageant. The King and Lord Roberts will ride at the head of the London procession.

The remains of her late Majesty Queen Victoria have been placed in their coffin. After a special religious service yesterday they were taken to the chapel, and only a privileged few were admitted to see the coffin, including those on the Queen's visiting list, the mayors of towns in the vicinity, and officers in uniform.

Prince Henry of Prussia will command nine German warships which are to participate in the funeral obsequies.

Jan. 27.

The gun carriage on which the coffin will rest will be drawn in London from Victoria Station to Paddington Station by the late Queen's eight cream-coloured ponies. The coffin will be covered by a large white satin gold-fringed pall, with the Royal Arms in colours in each corner, the Crown of England surmounting them.

The body of the Queen will be removed on Friday between a double line of warships firing minute guns, and will remain on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert on Friday night.

The King and members of the Royal Family will accompany the cortege to London on Saturday.

Jan. 28.

The coffin-bearers will be non-commissioned officers of the Household Cavalry Brigade.

Twenty thousand troops will line the streets from Victoria station to Paddington station.

The funeral arrangements were mainly arranged by her Majesty the late Queen.

The Channel squadron and the Reserve squadron, consisting of 18 battleships and 12 cruisers, will form two lines from Cowes to Portsmouth.

The southern section of the line will include 16 vessels representing the fleets of Germany, France, United States of America, Russia, Portugal, Denmark, and Italy.

Eight torpedo boat destroyers will escort the Alberta, which will bear the body of the late Queen. The Alberta will be followed by the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert with the King and Queen on board. The Osborne with the other royal mourners, the Admiralty and Trinity House yachts, and probably the German warship Hohenzollern, will follow.

It is expected that the passage between Cowes and Portsmouth will occupy two hours.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Archbishop of York, and the Bishop of Winchester, with the officials of St. George's Chapel, will conduct a service in the chapel prior to the removal of the body to Frogmore.

The King allowed 40 British and foreign journalists to visit the Chapelle Ardente at Osborne. The predominant tone of the chapelle was red, with a wealth of flowers and stately palms.

In the centre of the chapelle, resting on a dais covered with the Royal Standard, lay the coffin of cedar, lead, and oak, and covered with a white satin lace pall. It was also partly draped with the late Queen's ermine robe of the Garter.

The King had placed on the coffin the diamond crown used at the Drawing-rooms, also the insignia of the Garter. Around the coffin were countless wreaths of laurel, lilies, bay leaves, and azaleas. On the coffin was a colossal crown of blue flowers.

Four Grenadier Guards stood motionless, one at each corner of the coffin, with bowed heads and arms reversed. The scene was a most solemn and impressive one.

In the House of Commons, Mr. A. J. Balfour (leader of the Government) and Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman (leader of the Opposition) rendered high tribute to her late Majesty's qualities.

Mr. Balfour's speech is described as the greatest oratorical effort he has ever achieved in Parliament, being simple, touching, manly, and majestic.

Jan. 27.

Lord Salisbury, in his speech in the House of Lords, was almost overpowered with emotion. He declared that the abatement of social friction, the increase of public prosperity, and the expansion of the Imperial power, were largely due to the tact, wisdom, passionate devotion, and incomparable judgment of the Sovereign, who was a great instance of government by example, esteem, and love.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury in the House of Commons, said the importance of the Crown in the Constitution was an increasing factor. ### THE MOURNING IN SYDNEY.

PUBLIC OFFICES TO BE CLOSED ON SATURDAY.

A "Government Gazette Extraordinary" of the State of New South Wales, issued yesterday, stated, that "his Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor directs it to be notified that all public offices of the State will be closed on Saturday, the 2nd proximo, the day on which the interment of the late Queen Victoria is to take place. The public of the State generally are also invited to observe the day as one of close mourning." This notice is signed "by his Excellency's command, William John Lyne."

Again the Queen's Statue was greatly resorted to by the public yesterday, and many additional floral tokens of respect for her Majesty were added to the collection at the base of the pedestal. Amongst those not hitherto noticed are the following:—Supplied by Ferguson and Co., florists: From R. M. Higgins, Mayor of Braidwood; and from the St. Leonards Superior Public School. Sent by Miss Goodenough, florist: Wreaths from the North Sydney Orphans' Club, from the Australian Natives' Association of New South Wales, from the Women's Prevention of Cruelty to Animals' Society, from the Commercial Travellers' Association of New South Wales, and from members of the Wesley Church, Chippendale. Other offerings in evidence were:—A wreath bearing the word "Peace" in letters of violets on a groundwork of white everlastings, inscribed "From Colonel and Mrs. Roberts and family"; a wreath from "An Australian who Mourns"; a wreath from the Johnstone's Bay Sailing Club; two crosses from the Burwood Wesleyan church and Sunday-school; a large wreath from the workmen of the new buildings at the University, inscribed "In loving remembrance of our good Queen Victoria"; a large wreath tied with white ribbon, bearing the words "Bathurst Mourns"; a wreath of white flowers, with the letters G.F.S. in violets, and endorsed, "From the Girls' Friendly Society of Sydney, a token of sorrow and respectful love for our revered Queen and patroness;" a cross bearing a card inscribed "With love and profound sorrow from two Australian subjects;" a wreath from the women of the Anti-suffrage League, inscribed "To the noblest and truest pattern of womanhood, of sweetest memory, for whom we deeply grieve;" the model of a crown in white everlastings from the National Council of Women; a St. Andrew's cross over a wreath, all in white everlastings, with a card inscribed "From the Right Reverend the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church of New South Wales, in deep sorrow for the loss of a Queen greatly beloved;" a wreath from the employees of Farmer and Co. Limited; a wreath from the Mayor, aldermen, and citizens of Balmain; a wreath inscribed, "A Tribute to the Memory of our Beloved Queen from the Chief Secretary's Office"; a bouquet from the Sunday school children of St. Andrew's, Parramatta, "In Memory of our Beloved Queen;" a beautiful bouquet of white roses and other flowers tied with violet and orange ribbons, and inscribed, "A Loyal Tribute to our Beloved Queen From the Orange Lily Ladies' Lodge, No. 2, L.P.B.S. of A." a fine cross of mixed flowers from the Water and Sewerage Board Service Association, bearing a ribbon attached to the cross with the words "Crowned Eternally"; a handsome white wreath inscribed "A Loving Tribute to our Beloved Queen, from the Daughters of Derry, No. 301 Ladies Lodge"; a wreath bearing the words on a card "A Tribute of Respect and Sympathy, from the Municipal Council of Vaucluse," and a wreath with a ribbon inscribed "A Tribute to a Good Woman and Mother, from the Employees of A. Shadler and Co."

The State Premier (Sir William Lyne) stated last night that he was in communication with the Premiers of the other States as to what course should be adopted in regard to public mourning for the late Queen. His suggestion was that no business of any kind should be transacted on Saturday and that 81 minute guns should be fired, the last shot to be discharged at sunset.

The Comptroller-General has invited the attention of the officers of the Prisons' Department to the "Gazette" notice as to mourning. The uniformed staff has been supplied with black bands, which will be worn on the left arm until further notice.

At the annual meeting of the Sydney Philharmonic Society, held last night, it was resolved, on the motion of the hon. secretary (Mr. J. J. Cramp), seconded by Mr. R. B. Barton,—"That the members of the society, in unison with the whole world, desire to express their deep sorrow and sense of loss occasioned by the death of our illustrious and much loved Queen, and also their loyalty to her son his Majesty King Edward VII.; this resolution to be conveyed to his Excellency the Governor-General." Mr. Cramp, in proposing the motion, said the late Queen had been a very earnest patron of music, and scarcely a musical artist ever came to the front who had not found that her Majesty was willing to encourage his or her progress. At the suggestion of Miss Grace Brown the society resolved to forward a wreath to the Queen's statue. Another member proposed that on Saturday afternoon, the day of the funeral, the members should attend at the statue and sing a chorus, such as "Rest to the Departed," from Spohr's "Last Judgment." It was pointed out, however, that this could not be attempted safely without rehearsal, and there was no time to practise satisfactorily. Eventually the matter of singing at the statue was left to the society's committee to arrange, if possible.

Yesterday the gates of Government House were ornamented with mourning emblems for the first time. The State Government had previously wished to drape the gates, but his Excellency the Governor-General declined to grant his assent until receipt of a cable advice from London stating what arrangements were proposed by the Imperial Government in reference to her late Majesty's funeral and the mourning to be observed. Mr. P. Hordern's premises in George-street were draped. The statue of the late Queen inside the Colonial Secretary's office displayed a beautiful wreath upon its pedestal. People who had occasion to go along Macquarie-street also observed that the Mint, the offices of the Department of Justice, and Parliament House were draped in a tasteful and dignified manner. Bells were tolled at intervals during the day.

MOURNING IN THE NAVY.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief has advised the commanders of the British warships in port that the funeral of the late Queen will take place on Saturday next, upon which occasion 81 minute guns will be fired by the fleet. The last gun will be fired exactly at sunset. The officers of the squadron will wear mourning until July 24.

THE ROYAL FUNERAL.

REPRESENTATIVE OF THE COLONY IN ENGLAND.

Mr. Barton stated yesterday that it was originally intended that the Commonwealth Government should be represented in England on the occasion of the funeral of the Queen by Lord Jersey, but he had received intelligence that that gentleman was in India, and although he was leaving or had left that country it was hardly possible that he could arrive in England in time to be present at the sad function. Under these circumstances he had asked Lord Carrington to represent the Commonwealth.

SPIRITED ADDRESS TO THE ARMY AND NAVY.

LONDON, Jan. 27.

The Admiralty and the War Office have issued the text of spirited messages which King Edward VII. has addressed to the Navy and the Army. His Majesty thanked the Army and the Navy for their renowned services during the reign of the late Queen.

The King recalls Queen Victoria's constant pride and keenest solicitude for the Navy, which was the career of the late Duke of Edinburgh (Duke of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha). "I chose it," his Majesty continues, "for the early education of both my sons."

"The Queen, as Sovereign and head of the Army, took the warmest interest in her troops. She was proud of the fact that she was a soldier's daughter."

King Edward assures both Services that he will be watchful of their best interests, and he concludes by stating that he confidently relies on their unfailing loyalty and devotion."

THE ACCESSION OF THE NEW KING.

HIS MAJESTY PROCLAIMED IN SYDNEY.

It was determined by the State Executive authorities yesterday, that in order to put New South Wales in line with other parts of the Empire in recognising the accession of King Edward VII., it would be desirable to proclaim his Majesty in Sydney. Accordingly, without preliminary notice, the ceremony took place late in the afternoon. It was first performed outside the Colonial Secretary's office, and afterwards opposite Parliament House. At 5 p.m. his Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Frederick Darley, appeared on the steps of the Colonial Secretary's offices in Windsor uniform, accompanied by the following, amongst others:—Rear-Admiral Beaumont, Major-General French, Sir William Lyne (State Premier), Messrs. J. See, E. W. O'Sullivan, J. L. Fegan, J. Perry, and F. B. Suttor (members of the State Government), Colonel Mackenzie, A.A.G., Colonel Taunton, Captain Darley, (A.D.C. to the Lieutenant-Governor), Captain Dicken (of H.M.S. Royal Arthur), Commander Ravenhill (of H.M.S. Porpoise), Lieutenant Bernard (of H.M.S. Royal Arthur), Lieutenant Stapleton (of H.M.S. Torch), Lieutenant Griffiths (Royal Marines of H.M.S. Royal Arthur), Mr. Milson (Naval Paymaster), Mr. Critchett Walker, C.M.G. (Principal Under Secretary), Dr. MacLaurin, M.L.C. (Chancellor of the University), Mr. Justice Owen, Judge Backhouse, Mr. A. W. Meeks, M.L.C., and representatives of the Sydney Chamber of Commerce. A number of citizens, including ladies, assembled in Macquarie-street to meet the official party. The gathering was sufficiently large to spread in a dense column, many deep, across to the railings of the Palace Garden opposite. A number of policemen cleared a reasonable space in front of the Lieutenant-Governor, so that the proceedings might not be hampered by pressure from the rear.

Mr. Budge, Clerk of the Executive Council, was entrusted with the duties of herald on the occasion. He appeared dressed plainly in black, and wearing an ordinary frock coat. The others of the party were similarly attired, with the exception of those representing the naval and military forces, who appeared in full uniform. Mr. Budge, in a loud voice, read the following proclamation:—

"Whereas it hath pleased Almighty God to call to His mercy our late Sovereign Lady Queen Victoria, of blessed and glorious memory, by whose decease the Imperial Crown of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and all other her late Majesty's dominions, is solely and rightfully come to the High and Mighty Prince Albert Edward: We, Frederick Matthew Darley, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Lieutenant-Governor of the State of New South Wales and its Dependencies, in the Commonwealth of Australia; William John Lyne, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, Premier and Colonial Treasurer of the said State; and John See, Colonial Secretary of the said State, therefore do now hereby, with one full voice and concert of tongue and heart, publish and proclaim that the High and Mighty Prince Albert Edward is now, by the death of our late Sovereign, of happy and glorious memory, become our only lawful and rightful Liege Lord Edward the Seventh, by the grace of God King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India, Supreme Lord in and over the State of New South Wales, in the Commonwealth of Australia, to whom we do acknowledge all faith and constant obedience with all hearty and humble affection, beseeching God, by whom Kings and Queens do reign, to bless the Royal Prince Edward the Seventh with long and happy years to reign over us.

"Given at the State Government House, Sydney, this twenty-ninth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and in the first year of his Majesty's reign.

"God Save the King!

"FREDERICK M. DARLEY,
"Lieutenant-Governor.

"WILLIAM JOHN LYNE,
"Prime Minister of the State.

"JOHN SEE,
"Colonial Secretary."

When the acting-herald called in his loudest tones "God save the King!" at the end of the proclamation the public waved hats, and called in reply, "God save the King!"

Sir Frederick Darley then said: "This proclamation will again be read at Parliament House." The Lieutenant-Governor and those with him thereupon turned to leave the spot, and the crowd took this to be a proper opportunity to cheer the new Sovereign. Someone called for three cheers for the King, but his Excellency immediately turned and held up his hand in protest. The public took the hint that there was danger of a breach of etiquette being committed, so the cheers were obediently restrained.

Within a few moments afterwards the same ceremony was repeated at Parliament House. His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, however, was not there present. A large number of members of both Chambers gathered on the staging which covers the whole front of the building, and the proclamation was read by Mr. Budge from a platform slightly in advance for the seating accommodation, immediately overlooking Macquarie-street. The principal personages in attendance were identical with those at the Colonial Secretary's office, with the exception of Sir Frederick Darley. The party was amplified, however, by Judge Heydon and Judge Rogers, and a number of officers of Parliament. The Usher of the Black Rod, in full uniform, with cocked hat and dress sword, stood at Mr. Budge's side when he read the proclamation. A much larger concourse of citizens assembled to hear this second heraldic announcement, and they could not be restrained by deprecatory signals made by the Colonial Secretary from cheering King Edward VII. when the final words were uttered.

On being seen last night the Federal Premier stated that the proclamation of the new King by the State Government authorities did not seem to be necessary, as his Majesty had already been proclaimed by the Governor-General of the Commonwealth. The State Premier (Sir William Lyne) states that he was only following the course which had been adopted in the other colonies.

IN OTHER STATES.

BRISBANE, Tuesday.

An amending proclamation in connection with the accession of the King was issued to-day, the correction, however, being merely formal, and due to a mistake in the telegram of instructions. A salute of 21 guns was fired at noon, and all flags hoisted to masthead, remaining there till sunset to-day.

A salute of 21 guns in honour of the King's accession was fired at noon to-day, and flags were raised to the masthead for the remainder of the day.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

The proclamation of Edward VII. will be made on Thursday morning by the Lieutenant-Governor from the steps of Parliament House.

The Premier is endeavouring to arrange for the Imperial and Indian troops to take part in the proclamation. It has also been arranged to have the official proclamation read in each of the centres of population throughout the colony.

"GOD SAVE THE KING."

So far as the words are concerned, the National Anthem of England now necessarily returns to its original form, of "God Save the King." As most people are aware, the origin, both of verse and music, has been the subject of careful investigation, yet remains to this day obscured by misleading legends and inventions. The sources of information on the subject are almost embarrassingly wide. In Mr. Chappell's "Popular Music," the most exhaustive account of the anthem and its history is given. Major Crawford's account in Julian's "Dictionary of Hymnology" should also be consulted by the curious, and Mr. W. H. Cummings, the well-known tenor, and head of the Guildhall School of Music, published a long series of dissertations on the subject in the "Musical Times," during the months from March to August of 1878. As regards the verse, "God Save the King" is found in the English Bible (Coverdale, 1535), showing that the phrase must have been employed in the translation as one familiar to English readers. Mr. Froude mentions a watchword of the navy as early as 1545, "God Save the King," with the counter-sign "Long to Reign over Us." "God Save King James" is the refrain of a ballad of 1606; and "God Save Charles the King, our Royal Roy, Grant Him long to Reign, In Peace and Joy," is the opening of another ballad dating probably from 1645. Although the unparalleled length of Queen Victoria's reign made several generations so familiar with "God Save the Queen" that many worthy citizens have been inquiring whether or no a new national anthem will now have to be prepared, it needs but a moment's reflection to perceive that only at rare intervals in English history has the verse—or the sentiment of it, in whatever form conveyed—referred to a woman as the subject of the subjects' prayer.

As regards the melody, which consists of a tune in two sections, the first of six bars, the second of eight, its first public performance is generally quoted as 1740. The occasion is said to have been a dinner to celebrate the taking of Portobello by Admiral Vernon. Chappell's "Popular Music" quotes the nearest-known copy to that date as being in the "Harmonia Anglicana" of 1742 or 1743. At the Portobello dinner Henry Carey sang the anthem, and claimed both words and music as his own. Carey was a well-known operatic composer in his day, and produced scores of ballad operas at Drury Lane and Covent Garden. All these have long since passed into oblivion, and the striking and original melody of "Sally in Our Alley" alone survives him. He died in 1743, at the age of 80 years, leaving a son, George Savile Carey, who also became a singer, and whose claim on behalf of his father of the tune and verse of "God Save the King" occupied public attention a good deal about 1770-75. This George Savile Carey's daughter, Anne, it may be added, was the mother of Edmund Kean, the tragedian.

It is probable that Henry Carey really composed the anthem. But many maintain that Dr. John Bull was the author about a century earlier. Dr. Bull was born in 1563, took his musical degree at Oxford University in 1586, and was appointed first musical professor in Gresham College by Queen Elizabeth. In 1607 Dr. Bull entertained James I. and Prince Henry at Merchant Taylors' Hall, and while his Majesty was at table, according to the veracious chronicler Stowe, "John Bull, doctor of musique, one of the organists of his Majesty's chappell-royall, being in a citizen's gowne, cappe, and hood, played most excellente melodie upon a small payre of organes placed theyre for that purpose onley." In 1617 Bull became organist at Notre Dame Cathedral, Antwerp; died in the Place Verte in 1628, and was buried in Antwerp Cathedral. There is a portrait of Dr. Bull at Oxford University, bearing the homely distich—

The bull by force in field doth raigne;
But Bull by skill good-will doth gayne.

It is considered more probable, as already stated, that Carey composed the tune, but having on his side Handel's amanuensis of Christopher Smith, his own son, whose claim was disputed, and others. If so, however, Carey's tune at any rate resembled others, and one of them, described simply as an "ayre," is preserved on page 98 of a M.S. book attributed to Dr. Jan Bull, and dated 1619. The other airs which probably inspired Carey—indeed if he knew of them must have done so—are (1) a Scotch carol, "Remember, O Thou Man;" (2) a ballad, "Franklin is Fled Away;" and (3) a piece composed by Henry Purcell in 1696 for the harpsichord or spinnet. The melody quickly crossed the channel, as it is found in "La Lire Maçonne . . . de Vignolles et du Bois. . . . a la Haye," as early as 1766, was employed as the Danish national air in 1790, and as a Berlin Volkslied in 1793, whence it was adopted as the Prussian and German national air. Many great composers have admired it. Beethoven wrote seven variations on it for piano in C (1804), and after introducing it in his "Battle Symphony" he wrote in his diary, "I must show the English a little what a blessing they have in 'God Save the King.'" Weber introduced the melody in his cantata "Kampf und Sieg," and in his "Jubel Overture"—the latter a composition frequently played under Signor Hazon's baton by the Sydney Amateur Orchestral Society.

A BAREFACED ROBBERY.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

As a jeweller named James Hazelton was walking along Bourke-street this afternoon he had snatched from him a small box containing about £50 worth of gold chains, sleeve-links, and other such articles. He gave chase after the thieves, but they got clear with the booty.

THE PACIFIC CABLE SCHEME.

The Postmaster-General, Mr. Gurr, states that the cable published this morning that the Victorian Government was making inquiries in London as to whether the proposed concessions to the Eastern Extension Company in respect of the cable agreement were unfair to the Pacific cable scheme was quite correct. Mr. Gurr says he does not see any reason why the Pacific Cable Board should offer any objection, but he is silent on the point as to what will happen should the Pacific Board come to the determination that the concessions are inimical to the interests of the Pacific cable scheme.

RUTHERGLEN VITICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The Minister for Agriculture has given instructions for a large reduction in the annual expenditure on the Viticultural College at Rutherglen, which hitherto has quite failed in its purpose. The institution will, however, be kept in such a state that if it is required at any future time for a viticultural college it can be used for that purpose at very short notice. Meantime it will be used for growing phylloxera-resistant vines.

A WELCOME NUGGET.

A nugget, containing about 100oz. gold, has been found in washdirt workings at Hanlon Consols mine, Pitfield.

A CHILD BURNED TO DEATH.

A fire broke out about 3 o'clock this morning in a five-roomed weatherboard cottage situated in Charles-street, Prahran, and occupied by Mrs. Taylor and family, numbering in all 10 persons. The alarm was promptly given, and the inmates rushed with all speed into the open air. A minute or two later Mrs. Taylor noticed that her daughter Nellie, aged 7, was missing. Her son Robert at once entered the burning building in search of his sister, but she was not in her bedroom, and her would-be rescuer was severely burned before he succeeded in making his way out again. A second son, Philip, who assisted his brother to escape, also received severe burns. When the flames died out the charred body of the missing girl was found in the front room on the opposite side of the passage to where she had slept. It is probable that the child in trying to leave the cottage became confused, and was overcome by the smoke. The fire was apparently caused by a candle igniting some clothing.

The Albany sailed to-day for Sydney with 437 bags maize, 133 bags onions, 160 bags flour, 274 bags and 549 bales chaff, 200 bales straw, 82 bags potatoes, and 48 bales wool.

A man named James Day, who, on January 7, in a fit of jealousy, assaulted his wife with a hammer, and then it is alleged that he cut his throat with a razor, was dealt with to-day at the Carlton Court. The charge was reduced to one of committing an aggravated assault, and Day was fined £20, with 21s costs, in default six months' imprisonment.

Shipments of gold from Melbourne by the Himalaya to-day were £57,058. The mail steamer also takes 288 tons of Victorian butter.

At the half-yearly meeting of the Melbourne Tramway and Omnibus Company, Limited, to-day, the chairman stated that in view of the continued prosperity of the business of the company the directors had decided to increase the wages of gripmen and conductors from February 2 by 2s per week for first-class men and proportionately for other classes.

COLLISION IN GEORGE-STREET.

A MAN FATALLY INJURED.

A collision occurred between a 'bus and a stationary sulky in George-street last evening resulting in the death of a young married man. It appears that Ernest Herman Thiele, a tobacconist and stationer living at Church-street, Ryde, was sitting in a sulky in George-street, close to Wilmot-street. His wife was in a shop making purchases, and Thiele had driven his horse up close to the footpath, where he was waiting for her return. A 'bus was passing at a steady pace, and had apparently plenty of space to clear the standing sulky. Suddenly it swerved, and before the driver could alter its course it crashed into the sulky. Thiele was thrown on to the roadway with great force, and struck the blocks with his head. Assistance was at once procured and the injured man was conveyed to the Sydney Hospital. He was alive on reaching the institution, but died a few minutes afterwards. Medical examination showed that the neck had been broken by the fall. The body was removed to the South Morgue, where an inquest will be held this morning. It is surmised that one of the wheels of the 'bus skidded in the tram lines and caused the vehicle to swerve suddenly.

STATE LABOUR UNION.

An executive meeting of the above organisation took place last night, Mr. John Dwyer, the president, being in the chair. The report of the delegate appointed to the conference of the P.L.L. was considered, and a committee was appointed "to take into consideration the attitude of the Political Labour League conference towards the State Labour Union" and discuss the bearings of the case as it stands affected by the refusal of the union delegates." The action of the special executive committee in cancelling the pledges forwarded by the union to the conference on Saturday was endorsed. A Parliamentary standing committee was also appointed. It was further resolved that a meeting of unemployed members and others be held in Exhibition Park. Correspondence was received from the Federal Prime Minister agreeing to receive a deputation from the union, and from the Minister for Mines. A motion was carried that a deputation wait on the Right Hon. G. H. Reid on Wednesday.

MANLY BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of the Manly Benevolent Society was held on Monday, when the Rev. A. G. Stoddart presided, and there was a representative attendance. The third annual report and balance-sheet were presented and adopted. The report stated that during the year 17 families had been relieved, food and clothing having been supplied, and in one case a special grant for furniture was made. In several other cases temporary relief had been afforded, employment found, and in one instance a permanent livelihood secured. The Government had continued its annual grant of blankets, nine pairs having been received and distributed. Several sewing meetings had been held through the kindness of Mrs. Hall, and the clothing made had proved useful. The annual bread-and-butter dance realised £8 12s 6d, and the dance arranged by Lodge St. John brought in £25 5s 2d. The balance-sheet showed a credit of £33 8s 3d. The following officers were elected for 1901:—Patron, the member for Warringah, Mr. Dugald Thomson, M.L.A.; president, Mr. W. H. Fletcher, retiring Mayor; vice-presidents, Dr. L. Watson Harvey, Dr. G. B. P. Hall, Dr. David Thomas, Dr. Arthur Henry, the Rev. A. G. Stoddart, Mr. G. U. Hosking; hon. secretaries, Mesdames Brown and W. J. Douglass; hon. treasurer, Mr. Owen Carroll; committee, Mesdames Adams, A. Henry, G. B. P. Hall, L. Watson Harvey, Royan, H. M. Robinson, D. Thomas, H. E. Williams, Messrs. E. E. Bayliss, B. J. Gilman, W. Gregory, John J. Lough, J. Macintosh, A. Ogilvy, F. C. Passau, J. W. Purves; auditors, Messrs. F. Hunt and G. U. Hosking.

To build up a good constitution and give you a good complexion drink Nicholls' Dandelion Ale.—Advt.

THE FEDERAL CAMPAIGN

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

The name of one new candidate for federal legislative honours was mentioned yesterday. It appears as if those already announced are awaiting intelligence of the probable dates of the issue of the writs for the elections before taking any further steps in prosecution of their candidatures. A number of gentlemen who have already announced themselves propose proceeding to the electorates in a few days, but they wish to hear enunciated a more definite and precise statement of the Government policy before they leave town. The utterances of Sir William Lyne as to the probable customs duties to be imposed have created a little uncertainty in the minds of many who were previously inclined to believe that the differences between the freetrade and protectionist parties were mere distinctions in terms, and a further pronouncement by the Commonwealth Prime Minister is awaited in order to set at rest the question whether the specific duties under the uniform tariff are to be higher than would amount to 15 per cent. ad valorem. Moderate protectionists state that they will resist any attempt to impose high duties, for two reasons—the people of the States, except perhaps Victoria, are not prepared to assent to them; and any attempt to impose such a tariff as will exercise a prohibitory influence on imports will necessitate a recourse to direct taxation to raise revenue for carrying on the Government. This the people would, in their opinion, scout. They also say that as the Commonwealth will have no land fund from which to draw when revenue is short, it will be incumbent on the administrators to keep a tight hand on the purse strings. Therefore, they wish to hear an authoritative statement from Ministers as to the method of administration to be adopted before they are prepared to say whether they will go with them all the way in their proposed scheme of taxation.

The campaign in Victoria appears to be pretty much in the same state as in this province. Candidates do not wish, a gentleman from Melbourne said yesterday, to begin their canvass too early. The gentlemen who have already announced themselves for the 23 seats in the House of Representatives are as follow:—Balaclava, Sir George Turner; Ballarat, Mr. Deakin and Mr. R. T. Vale, M.L.A.; Bendigo, Sir John Quick; Bourke, Mr. Gair, M.L.A., Mr. J. H. Cook, Mr. Mirams, and Dr. J. M. Rose; Corinella, Mr. Fitzgerald, M.L.C., and Mr. J. W. M'Cay; Corio, Mr. Levien, M.L.A., Mr. A. M'Naughton and Mr. R. A. Crouch; Echuca, Mr. C. W. Wilson, Mr. Max Hirsch, and Mr. M'Coll, M.L.A.; Flinders, Mr. A. C. Groom, Mr. Downward, M.L.A., and Mr. L. L. Smith; Grampians, Dr. Rinder, Mr. Skelton, and Mr. T. Skene; Indi, Mr. I. A. Isaacs (Attorney-General) and Mr. T. Martin; Kooyong, Mr. Madden, M.L.A., Mr. Fink, M.L.A., Mr. F. Rogers, and Mr. Prytz; Korangamite, Mr. Manifold; Laanecoorie, Mr. Salmon, M.L.A.; Mailoo, Mr. M'Lean, M.L.A.; Moira, Mr. M. Kennedy, Mr. Brown, M.L.A., Dr. M'Inerney, M.L.A., and Mr. J. West; Melbourne, Dr. Maloney, M.L.A., and Sir Malcolm M'Eacharn; Melbourne Ports, Mr. Mauger, M.L.A.; Melbourne Southern, Mr. Joske, Mr. J. Baragwanath, Mr. F. C. Gray, and Rev. J. B. Ronald; Melbourne Northern, Mr. H. B. Higgins; Mernda, Mr. S. Stott, Mr. M'Kenzie, M.L.A., and Mr. T. Bent; Wannon, Mr. Horwitz, Mr. L. F. Cussen, and Mr. D. Thomson; Wimmera, Mr. Taverner, M.L.A., Mr. Irvine, M.L.A., Mr. Phillips, M.L.C., and Mr. Williams; and Yarra Yarra, Mr. Beazley, M.L.A. The candidates for the Senate are:—Sir Henry Wrixon, M.L.C., Sir William Zeal, M.L.C., Mr. J. A. Wallace, M.L.C., Mr. Fraser, M.L.C., Mr. Duffy, M.L.A., Mr. Best, M.L.A., Mr. J. L. Dow, Mr. J. P. T. Caulfield, Mr. Molesworth Greene, Mr. Knox, M.L.C., Sir Frederick Sargood, Mr. W. T. C. Kelly, Mr. C. Sargeant, Mr. J. L. Purves, Mr. J. W. Styles, and Mr. W. A. Watt.

Mr. W. Sandford, proprietor of the Eskbank iron works, notifies that he is a candidate for the House of Representatives, and that he will contest the Parramatta electorate. Mr. Sandford took over the Eskbank Iron Company's premises when steel rails were first introduced, and has considerably extended its plant. He was the first to manufacture steel, iron, and copper sheets, and he is now starting a blast furnace to deal with the raw ores of the State.

A meeting of the literary committee of the Democratic Club was held on Monday night, when a manifesto was drafted in favour of direct taxation and municipal reform. This will be considered at a special meeting of the executive council to be held this evening.

Captain Wallington, private secretary to his Excellency the Governor-General, has been appointed to the position of acting clerk of the Federal Executive.

CHANGES IN THE TAXATION DEPARTMENT.

It was received yesterday that Mr. L. S. Spiller should be appointed first Commissioner for Taxation, that Mr. C. J. Saunders, of the Lands Department, should be second commissioner, and that Mr. M. Johnson, Commissioner for Stamps, should be third commissioner. These changes, it may be stated, are necessary in connection with the retirement of Mr. N. Lockyer, who, as Collector of Customs, is now a federal officer.

SIR WILLIAM M'MILLAN'S CANDIDATURE.

MEETING AT PADDINGTON.

At the Paddington Town Hall last night a largely attended meeting of the friends and supporters of Sir William M'Millan, who is to contest the Wentworth Electorate in the House of Representatives, was held. Mr. J. F. Burns occupied the chair.

Sir William M'Millan who on rising was greeted with applause, said that the meeting was called for the purpose of organising the campaign. He thought it was unlikely that he would have a walk over. He was a freetrader, and was not afraid to say so. If he had thought that it was his duty to follow Mr. Barton in his policy he would have done so, even at the risk of losing the electorate. He was not a follower of Mr. Barton, however, for he had always been an extreme freetrader. Should he have the honour to represent Wentworth Electorate in the Federal Parliament, he would take his seat on the Opposition benches. In this his first public address, he intended to deal almost entirely with the fiscal issue, leaving all other matters for subsequent addresses. They had heard a good deal about the Constitution being in danger, but he said that was all "bunkum." He had fought as many other men had in the federal campaign for Australian union, and he put that union above every local policy. The Commonwealth was not in danger then and it was not in danger now, and he never for a moment thought of deserting the freetrade cause when that Commonwealth was established. They as freetraders were now determined to fight the battle to the bitter end. It was necessary that they should have a leader, and as far as he could judge the man who was looked upon as the leader of the freetrade party was the Right Hon. G. H. Reid. (Loud applause.) As a Minister of the Crown that gentleman had led the freetrade party in the New South Wales Legislative Assembly for some five years, and he had a right to be looked upon as the leader of the freetrade cause. (Cheers.) They were not fighting for a man, but for a principle. The distinct issues in the election were freetrade and protection. There were many things in Mr. Barton's policy which Mr. Reid would vote for, and although he acknowledged Mr. Reid as the leader of the party he would not tie his hands and feet to that gentleman. Whether he was opposed by freetrader, protectionist, or labour candidate in the electorate he hoped that the fight would be conducted on fair lines. (Cheers.)

Mr. Bruce Smith and Mr. J. T. Walker also addressed the meeting. On the motion of Alderman J. C. Watson, seconded by Mr. James Marks, a vote of confidence in Sir William M'Millan was unanimously carried.

A strong committee was formed to further the interests of the candidate through the electorate and secure his return.

The proceedings closed with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

A correspondent signing himself "W.P.D.," writing with regard to the site for the federal capital, says:—"In Southern Monaro the watershed embraces the whole federal area, whether we regard the 125 square miles proposed by the local league or the increased amount of 1100 square miles recommended by Mr. Oliver. Southern Monaro forms one huge basin, with the Alps, the Nimitybelle spur of that range, and the coast range as its sides, and there is a gradual fall in every direction towards the proposed site of the federal city. The whole country is interlaced with ever-flowing clear streams. When Mr. Blomfield, the Government engineer, sent to report on the water supply of the district, was at Bombala, he only thought it necessary to inspect two out of dozens of these streams, and reckoning on a basis of only one-sixth of the flow he then ascertained (although they were at normal level) he was satisfied that these two streams alone would, by gravitation, give a supply of pure water equal to the needs of a population of half a million, and at a cost of £40,000 only."

MR. WISE'S CANDIDATURE.

TOMINGLEY, Tuesday.

Mr. B. R. Wise addressed a meeting of 300 people at M'Phail last night, and had a cordial reception. He declared himself, although a freetrader, yet a staunch supporter of Mr. Barton's Government, which he said was composed of the ablest men of Australia. In speaking of the opposition of the labour party to his candidature, he referred to his labours in connection with the Old-age Pensions and Industrial Arbitration Bills, which were about the only matters in the federal platform on which the labour party could hold adverse opinion. He claimed that he had accomplished more in those matters than had been done by the whole of the labour party. He said that as a revenue of £8,000,000 must be raised by the Federal Government from customs and excise, it was immaterial whether it was called a freetrade or protectionist tariff, as the duties would be virtually the same under either Mr. Reid or Mr. Barton. At the conclusion of a very enthusiastic meeting a vote of confidence was carried, there being only four dissentients.

CANOBLAS ELECTORATE.

MR. T. R. BROWN'S CANDIDATURE.

ORANGE, Tuesday.

Mr. T. R. Brown, who is seeking election for Canoblas, addressed the opening meeting of his campaign in the Oddfellows' Hall last night. He said the State which had the best local Parliament and selected the best federal representatives would rank highest in the Federal Parliament, and the leading position would be taken by this State. He announced himself as a supporter of old-age pensions and a White Australia. He said that portions of the continent which could not be developed by white men should not be developed at all. He favoured the elimination of the financial clause from the Constitution Act, and the substitution therefor of powers to enable the Federal Government to collect a sufficient revenue for its needs, leaving the States to do likewise. The Federal Government should not be charged with the duty of collecting revenue for States, and States should not be beggars on the Central Government, but provide for their own needs. He declared himself a non-tariffist and freetrader. He contended that steps must be taken to prevent the military creating a separate class as distinct from civil classes. Defence should be entrusted to the citizen soldiers, who should first receive training at school and continue it afterwards, while the Government should foster rifle associations. He stated that long before he dreamt of contesting the electorate he was convinced that Orange-Canobolas was the best site for the federal capital, as such a site would give the greatest advantage to the greatest number of New South Welshmen, while if Weerie Creek and the transcontinental railways were completed it would occupy the most central position. He asserted that Australia's interest in the Pacific must be carefully safeguarded, as the islands belonged to Australia. A vote of confidence was carried almost unanimously, but many persons refrained from voting at this early stage of the campaign.

* Where dividends are interim the yield is based on a year's distribution; otherwise on the last half-yearly one.

The half-yearly report of the North Coast Steam Navigation Company to December 31 shows net profit, after providing for depreciation and insurance of ship property, amounting to £5517. Out of this the directors propose to pay a dividend at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, and a bonus of 1 per cent. arising from rents and investments £5250, leaving £267 to be carried to reserve account for equalisation of dividends. The total loss of the Corski is reported. The fleet, which is valued at £77,490, is insured for £53,700.

The second half-yearly meeting of the Sydney Ferries, Limited, was held at the Sydney Exchange at noon to-day, Mr. W. C. Goddard presiding. The directors' report stated that the net profit, after making provision for depreciation of steamers and wharf properties, and setting aside the sum of £1000 as a reserve for special repairs, added to the balance brought forward from the previous half-year, amounted to £4590. This sum the directors recommended should be appropriated as follows:—To the payment of dividend at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum £4200, leaving £390 to be carried forward. The purchase of the fleet property and goodwill of the Parramatta River steamers and Tramway Company, Limited, for £16,500, was reported. The new horse-boat Kamilaroi was successfully launched on November 24, and is now receiving her machinery. The steamer Kangaroo, which was almost totally destroyed by fire on October 22, was fully covered by insurance, and will shortly resume her place on the ferry. The tenders for two passenger steamers for the Neutral Bay trade proved to be about 100 per cent. higher than the estimated cost, and none were accordingly accepted. A vacancy having occurred in the management of the company, Mr. W. G. Todd was appointed, and entered upon his duties on January 1. The report was adopted, and Messrs. W. C. Goddard and H. E. Russell were re-elected directors, and Mr. W. Clarke auditor. A vote of thanks was carried to the directors and officers of the company.

The eighteenth half-yearly meeting of the Newcastle and Hunter River Steamship Company was held to-day, Mr. S. Clift in the chair. In moving the adoption of the report the chairman said there had been an active trade within the half-year, and the company had catered for it at low rates. The new vessel which they had hitherto not obtained in consequence of the high prices of construction would now have to be procured to meet the necessities of the company's traffic. By delaying as long as they had, however, a considerable saving in the cost of construction would be effected, as they were at present advised. A suitable steam dredger had been bought for service on the Hunter and Paterson rivers. The report was adopted. The Hon. John See, M.L.A., and Mr. T. Brooks, as directors, and Messrs. F. Phillips and H. H. Lee as auditors, were re-elected. A vote of thanks was passed to the directors, general manager, and officers of the company for their satisfactory management of the company's affairs.

At the annual meeting of the Assets Realisation Company to-day, the report, of which we have already given particulars, was adopted on the motion of Mr. T. R. Allt, the chairman, after an explanation, in the course of which he said that the position of the company was rather better than last year. Mr. Jas. Plummer was re-elected a director, and Messrs. Jas. Johnson and T. F. H. Mackenzie were again chosen as auditors; and a vote of thanks was passed to the directors and officers.

As will be gathered from our special advertisement columns, the Mutual Life Association has made a new departure in issuing tables for combined life and accident policies, which may be taken out on the terms stated by those whom life policies only, or accident policies only, or separate policies for both class of risks, do not suit. There seems no reason why legitimate business of both classes should not be combined, and those who desire the convenience will have the opportunity to avail themselves of it.

The main features of the report of the Union Bank of Australia for the half-year ended August 31, 1900, compared with those of two previous quarters, are as follows:—

| | August 31, 1899. | February 28, 1900. | August 31, 1900. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Deposits | £14,949,177 | £15,795,602 | £15,295,186 |
| Cash and securities | 5,834,916 | 5,609,346 | 5,644,998 |
| Advances and bills | 13,465,271 | 15,41?,707 | 13,697,393 |
| Net profit | 48,514 | 92,009 | 79,825 |
| Dividend | 6 | 7 | 7 |
| Amount of dividend | 45,000 | 52,500 | 52,500 |
| Added to reserve | — | 50,000 | 25,000 |
| Carried forward | 30,362 | 19,864 | 22,189 |

The figures show an increase of deposits as compared with the corresponding half of last year, with which the comparison must be made. The advances and bills were also greater, and the general result was a substantial addition to the profits, which aggregated £79,825. The sum of £52,500 suffices to pay a dividend at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, £25,000 is added to reserve, making £75,000 for the year, and £22,189 carried forward.

The amount of the clearances of the Sydney banks for the week ended January 28 was 2,605,232 comparing with 2,460,442 and 1,967,082 in the corresponding weeks of 1900 and 1899 respectively. The total amounts since January 1, in comparison with the amount for like periods for earlier years, was as follows:—

| | |
|---|---|
| January 1 to January 28, 1895 | £8,284,585 |
| January 1 to January 27, 1896 | 8,713,247 |
| January 1 to February 1, 1897 | 11,629,445 |
| January 1 to January 31, 1898 | 10,252,872 |
| January 1 to January 30, 1899 | 10,404,011 |
| January 1 to January 29, 1900 | 12,612,245 |
| January 1 to January 28, 1901 | 11,117,707 |

Having regard to the loss of business through the holidays, this year's business is being very well maintained. In Melbourne to January 21 the bank clearances aggregated £9,908,126, being an increase of 5·4 per cent. for the year.

We are requested to remind intending applicants for shares in the Taranaki Collieries, Limited, that the list closes on Friday next. Application for shares is to be made to Messrs. J. B. North and Son, brokers to the company.

The delayed Bank of England return for last Wednesday shows that the institution is regaining strength. An addition to the reserve of £1,663,000, and the increase in the proportion to liabilities from 38·90 per cent. to 44·53 per cent., are favourable features. Still, it is noteworthy that this accession of strength has been gained by a reduction to the extent of £1,920,000 in Government securities—either by their sale or by borrowing upon them, or possibly by redemption, for the bank sometimes takes up Treasury bills, of which so large an amount is now current, and is redeemed from time to time. The addition of £1,473,000, as made to the public deposits, is due in part, though probably not entirely, to the receipt of revenue in excess of expenditure usual at this time of year, and as to the rest to the proceeds of loans. The result of the whole movement is that the public and private securities have been reduced by £2,722,000, while the Government and private deposits have only fallen £936,000, leaving the difference to strengthen the reserve. The bank is regaining gold, the week having resulted in an addition of £1,128,000, making the total increase of £3,629,000 within three weeks. The easier tendency, if continued, should lead to a reduction in the bank rate of 5 per cent. Still, the market rate being over 4 per cent.—actually 4½ per cent.—indicates an active demand for money and a stringent situation.

Consols have recovered ⅜ to 96¼. It is expected that the British Government will again be on the market for a loan next month, and though it is not likely to be in the form of a new issue of Consols, the fact that money is wanted on British securities so much in excess of the amount at first anticipated, tends to depress the value of the stock which represents the bulk of the National Debt. There are only three slight movements in colonial stocks, two having declined ¼, and one risen by the same amount.

The commercial news from London is not favourable. Prices of commodities generally seem to have a downward tendency. Bradford tops, 60's common, are down ½d per lb. Silver, copper, lead, and butter are rather lower. Tin, however, is somewhat higher.

At the wool sales to-day 8193 bales were offered by the selling brokers, and, inclusive of 496 bales sold privately, 6177 bales changed hands. The market showed practically no change, there being active competition up to late rates. The highest price secured for greasies was 9d and for scoureds 15½d per lb.

BREADSTUFFS.

Wheat is still unsettled, letters coming in by each mail from all parts of the country urging Sydney agents to bring pressure on the Railway Department to send up trucks. The delays and uncertainties and difficulties in getting vessels loaded have caused shippers to restrict their operations. The Biera, which was to have loaded at Darling Island, has been forced to secure accommodation at Pyrmont, thus necessitating the transfer of many thousands of bags of wheat at a considerable outlay. General dissatisfaction is expressed at the unsatisfactory state of things now prevailing. Some extremely nice samples of locally-grown Manitoba wheat have been seen. Grown from local seed which only weighed 59½lb. per imperial bushel, this season's grain goes 63½lb., and is of improved appearance. Quotations for Manitoba wheat would only be misleading, but considerably above the rates ruling for white wheats is being secured; ordinary wheat remains at about 2s 7d ex trucks. Flour ruled steady at £6 to £6 10s, according to brand and quality.

The receipts of wheat and flour by rail at Sydney, Clyde, Homebush, Burwood, Ashfield, Petersham, and Newtown during the week ended January 29, compared with those of the previous week and the corresponding week of last year, are as follows:—

| | Wheat, Tons. | Flour, Tons. |
|---|---|---|
| Week ended January 29 | 9,954 | 691 |
| Previous week | 10,663 | 728 |
| Last year | 9,671 | 270 |

The receipts of wheat and flour during the first four weeks of the last nine years are as follows:—

| | Wheat. Tons. | Flour. Tons. |
|---|---|---|
| First 4 weeks in 1893 | 4,118 | 1,419 |
| First 4 weeks in 1894 | 4,723 | 1,437 |
| First 4 weeks in 1895 | 5,198 | 1,379 |
| First 4 weeks in 1896 | 2,888 | 1,3 5 |
| First 4 weeks in 1897 | 10,477 | 1,010 |
| First 4 weeks in 1898 | 13,614 | 1,590 |
| First 4 weeks in 1899 | 9,598 | 1,174 |
| First 4 weeks in 1900 | 27,504 | 1,189 |
| First 4 weeks in 1901 | 38,298 | 2,826 |

From the Collector of Customs we have received the following return, showing the exports of wheat and flour for the port of Sydney during the week ending January 26:—Wheat, 41,640 bushels; flour, 744 tons.

IMPORT MARKET.

Quietness prevailed in this department of commerce to-day, there being quite an absence of speculative inquiry. A good deal of attention is at present being given by merchants to their income tax returns, which in some instances, where a number of agencies are held, require a lot of compilation. The outgoing mails also occupied some time to the detriment of ordinary trading. Prices generally were without alteration.

Sugar.—Outside brands continued scarce. No change in prices occurred. A shipment of beet sugar is expected in the Essen, due on about February 10.

Our cables to-night show a fall of 4½d per cwt. in beet sugar in London, the price quoted being 9s 1½d per cwt. Some idea of the probable course of the sugar market may be gained from the fact that sugar for future delivery was quoted in London at gradually hardening rates till the new campaign opens in October of this year. The following were the actual quotations for 88 per cent. beet sugar for forward delivery according to last advices:—December, 9s 1½d per cwt.; January, 9s 2½d; February, 9s 3½d; March, 9s 4½d; April, 9s 5½d; May, 9s 6½d; June, 9s 7d; July, 9s 7½d; August, 9s 8½d. This was the culminating point, sugar for delivery in October, November, and December next being quoted at 9s 4d per cwt.

Tea.—Privately there was an absence of business of note, though numerous inquiries were abroad for leaf "for price."

Messrs. Henry Harris and Co. report:—We offered at our rooms this morning, under instructions from Messrs. Gerber, Michaut and Co., a catalogue of Ceylon and Indian teas, covering 911 packages, being an invoice of 358 packages of Ceylons and 553 packages of Indian teas now landing. The trade was well represented. Bidding was fairly brisk, and the catalogues were cleared at rates fully holding their own on our last week's sales. The Ceylons offered ran entirely on better grades of broken pekoes. The Indian teas comprised good common to medium sorts, all more or less showing autumnal flavour, thus evidencing the closing of the Eastern season. We quote as under:—Ceylon teas, broken orange pekoes, medium to fine, 8½d to 11½d, in bond; Indian teas, common to good common pekoe souchongs, 5½d to 6½d; ditto pekoes, 6½d to 8½d; ditto broken pekoes, 6½d to 8d.

Groceries.—Fifty cases of Pink Alaska salmon were taken up for export at 4s 6d.

Liquors.—Stocks in first hand were generally rather light, though second holders appear fairly well supplied with most ordinary lines. Hennessy's brandy for delivery next week was quoted at 34s 6d for one-star, and 45s 6d for three-star. Key gin on spot was quoted at 12s 3d for 15's, and 12s for 16's, while for delivery ahead 12s all round was asked. Lowndes's rum fluctuated between 3s 10d and 3s 11d. Twenty-five cases of Heddle's brandy changed hands at agents' prices. Sales of Marie Brizard's brandy have been heavy during the last few days at 31s for one-star. Stocks have become exhausted and orders are being booked to arrive ex Star of New Zealand. The three-star sold at 42s 6d. 150 cases of Old Tom just landed ex Star of Victoria were placed at usual prices. Perl and Zacherlbrau lager sold well, the latter brand being delivered ex Solingen.

Metals.—Small sales were effected at unaltered rates throughout. Our cables to-day advise a further slight decline in the price of Glasgow warrants. New York mail advices, however, state that the pig iron market there was decidedly firmer, the outlook for the new year being regarded as particularly bright for nearly all furnaces. Steel of all descriptions also ruled very firm in the United States, the structural steel makers having advanced their prices by 2dol. per ton, the outlook pointing to an enormous demand during the coming six months. American advices also state that the Steel and Wire Company were holding firmly to previous quotations, even in face of the lower markets in England and Germany. They claim to be still below those markets, and this was considered to be evidenced by the fact of orders still coming forward from Australia.

Jute Goods.—Cornsacks were nominally quoted at 5s 1½d; 25 bales of branbags moved off at 4s 2d, the market ruling firm. Standard wool packs for next season's requirements are still quoted by cable at 1s 10d c.i.f. from Calcutta.

Oils.—Small lots of kerosene on spot moved off at 10d, while ex Cambus Kenneth and Rowena to arrive business was effected at 9½d, holders now looking for 9¾d.

Later information relative to the introduction of Borneo oil into this market authoritatively states that the first shipment cannot arrive before the end of April at the earliest.

Chemicals.—Business locally disclosed no new features. The rosin market is advised from New York as being decidedly firmer, supplies of low grades being very meagre. The indications all pointed, it is said, towards high prices ruling for the next four or five months, until the new crop began to come in.

Slates.—Regarding roofing slates New York advices state: "Market is much firmer, and it is getting very difficult to secure prompt delivery, owing to the light supplies at the quarries. Unfading green are practically out of supply, and the dealers will not promise delivery before April of the coming year."

PRODUCE MARKETS.—Tuesday.

TRADE IN SUSSEX-STREET.

A good turnover was done in general produce in most departments to-day. Owing to the heavy supplies forward by rail the bulk of the business was transacted at the Redfern auction sale. The chief feature of the day's operations was the sharp advance in potatoes on account of temporary scarcity. The market for maize remained steady, the inquiry being for the most part on the hand-to-mouth basis. Oats moved quietly, as did other grain lines. Both bran and pollard had good sale, especially the latter, which was scarce. Imported chaff was plentiful, and the sale fairly good for best descriptions. Local makes moved off steadily, the demand being very slow for inferior and dusty varieties. Lucerne had good sale, small parcels being bought for export to Queensland. Straw was cheaper, especially local samples. Potatoes commanded ready sale at considerably higher rates owing to temporary scarcity. Onions were a trifle slow, the recent advance in values having restricted sales somewhat. In dairy produce a fair amount of business was done in most lines. Eggs were again dearer on account of scarcity. Choice and reliable sorts had good sale, while inferior quality was slow. Butter and cheese moved well, while bacon was rather quiet at quotations.

Wholesale quotations were:—

FORAGE MARKET.

REDFERN SALE.

Another heavy supply of produce was submitted at auction this morning. The chief feature of the sale was the substantial rise of over £1 per ton in potatoes, on account of the limited supply forward. Chaff was plentiful and the demand dull except for good and prime descriptions. Extra choice green brought to 4s, prime to 3s 8d, good medium to 3s 3d, and rough and dusty 2s 4d to 2s 8d per cwt. Owing to the heavy supply to hand the inquiry for straw was slack at reduced rates. Choice in bundles fetched to 2s 1d, and fair to good quality in derrick bales 1s 7d to 1s 10d per cwt. Lucerne hay was dull of sale, a passable sample in large bales going at 1s 10d. Good medium oaten hay found a buyer at 3s per cwt. The sale for inland maize was limited up to 3s 1d per bushel. Dark feed oats of inferior quality were placed at 1s 5d per bushel. Pumpkins moved steadily at 2s 5d to 4s per dozen, while watermelons had attention at 1s 6d to 4s per dozen. Wheat was offered without leading to business. Owing to the small deliveries potatoes moved freely, the market closing at an advance of 20s to 25s per ton on yesterday's rates. Extra choice realised 5s to 5s 3d, prime to 4s 9d, and medium samples to 4s 4d per cwt.

Appended are the proportions of the various descriptions of produce actually submitted at to-day's sale:—Chaff, 61 trucks; lucerne, 4; oaten hay, 2; straw, 10; pumpkins, 1; oats, 2; maize, 3; wheat, 2; melons, 3; and potatoes, 7.

CITY YARDS.

Fat pigs:—To-day's supply comprised 920 head, of which all descriptions were represented, but a larger proportion than usual consisted of baconers, many of which were in excellent condition. There was a large attendance of buyers, and as all of them evinced a keen desire to purchase competition from start to finish of sales was particularly lively. Baconers sold readily at rates fully equal to the best of last week, prime 145lb. to 180lb. sorts being in most request, while porker values for all qualities showed a decided improvement, sales being quickly effected at the advanced rates. What few stores and back-fatters penned also participated in the rise. Taken on the whole the market was one of the most satisfactory to sellers experienced for weeks past. Quotations: Big heavy back-fatters 48s to 55s, extra choice to £3 11s 6d; best baconers to 52s 6d, good and heavy 43s to 48s, medium 35s to 40s, light from 31s; best porkers to 30s, good 22s to 26s 6d, light from 17s; stores from 11s 6d to 16s 6d each.

The New Zealand Loan and Mercantile Agency Company's catalogue comprised, with the exception of a few good lots, a moderate selection. In scoured there was a good representation, which included one or two choice parcels. The Northern, Western, and Southern districts supplied the chief clips in the greasy section, north-western, southern, and local lines comprising the bulk of the scoured offerings.

They sold greasy to 8½d, this price being obtained for 47 bales of the HV over Z over Hunter's Vale clip from Moomin Brook, 12 bales bringing 7¾d and 27 bales pieces 6d. There was no change in the market, all descriptions being in good demand under strong and active competition. The reductions in the various classes previously reported immediately after the opening of the London sales had of course to be again submitted to, but there has been no further decline. Scoureds, as was the case yesterday, sold a trifle easier. Considerable withdrawals were made, the reserves of owners being almost entirely responsible for the holding over of so many lots.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF TEMPERANCE.

The annual meeting of No. 1 Grand Division, Sons and Daughters of Temperance, was held on Monday evening in the Queen's Hall, Pitt-street. Bro. W. J. Walker, G.W.P., presided, and there was a good attendance of members. Four new representatives were initiated.

Bro. W. J. Walker, G.W.P., submitted a lengthy report dealing with the past year's work in connection with the holding of public meetings, official visitations, &c., which was received and adopted. ASK FOR PILLSBURY'S VITOS!

FROM THE MILLERS' JOURNAL, SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA.

The "Millers' Journal" is the Recognised Organ of the Flour Trade in Australia. Here is what it says in making a comparison between Pillsbury's Average "Spring Wheat" Flour and Best Average Sydney Flour:—

"The contrast between an Average Spring Wheat Flour and the Average Sydney Flour, best quality, as shown in the following results, will be at once apparent, and prove what has been said above. They are the figures of Mr. F. B. Guthrie, Chemist to the N.S.W. Department of Agriculture, an admitted authority on the subject:—

| | Pillsbury's Best. | Sydney Best. |
|---|---|---|
| Strength | 61.2 | 49 0 |
| Gluten | 11.48 | 8.5 |

"If not Absolutely the Best Flour in the World, 'Pillsbury's Best' is generally considered by competent judges to be inferior to none. Its prominent characteristics are High Gluten Content and Great Strength."

Readers of the above are asked to remember that Pillsbury's Vitos is made by the same people, and from identically the Same Unequalled Natural Products.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

Only a small turnover was done in mining ventures on the Stock Exchange yesterday. Both buyers and sellers were disinclined for business, owing to the absence of news from London, and as a consequence no sales were reported during the forenoon. When London news came to hand it was only to January 25, and reported at that date a marked depression in Western Australian stocks, the middle quotes for these being as follows:—Associated, 49s; Perseverance, £5 11s; Main Reef, 34s; Great Boulder, 22s; Oroya, 16s 6d; Ivanhoe, £6 5s; Kalgurli, 73s 6d; Lake View Consols, £5 19s; South Kalgurli, 47s 6d. Local sales did not get down to these prices, and although Ivanhoes went as low as £6 6s, they afterwards recovered, the closing offers being £6 12s 6d—17s 6d lower than the price realised over night. There was not a material alteration in local dredging shares, the only feature of note being the continued fall in Little Rivers, for which buyers offered 1s less than on Monday. New South Wales coal shares maintained their firmness.

BROKEN HILL MINING.

BROKEN HILL, Tuesday.

The North Mine mill, working 12 hours short of full time last week, dealt with 846 tons of crude sulphides, yielding 153 tons of concentrates, including 23 tons from tables and buddles, balking 60 per cent. lead, 23oz. silver, 9 per cent. zinc; despatches totalled 153 tons concentrates to Port Pirie, leaving a balance on the mine's floors estimated at 415 tons. The main productive workings at the 700ft. level south are carrying a strong breast of mill sulphides on the various floors. The week's average assays were 19½ per cent. lead and 18½oz. silver. In the far north section on the 600ft. level the stopes in the north drive are looking healthy, returning a free mill ore in fair quantity, worth 21 per cent. lead and 4½oz. silver. Overhead in the high backs of the 500ft. levels a limited quantity of mill sulphides is being mined, averaging 19½ per cent. lead and 5oz. silver.

REPORTS.

The secretary of the Little River Gold-dredging Company reports as follows:—Dredge worked 127 hours for 8oz. gold. Owing to the nature of the ground being worked the stuff is not tipping well, and an alteration is now being made to the shoot.

The manager of the Gulgong Phœnix Gold-mining Company reports under date January 28:—Eastern and western drives carrying about 6in. of wash, and are nearing completion. An occasional colour of gold can be seen. Northern drive will soon be in far enough to open a wash, from which the yield of 1oz. 10dwt. from three loads was obtained.

The manager of the Girilambone copper mine reports that the western drive has been extended 4ft. 6in. The felsitic floor has changed its course, and is now coming back to the north. The manager has had to shoot down some of the side to follow the ore, making the main drive 14ft., which is the width of the ore at this point. It will average over 4 per cent. for copper. The ore raised at No. 1 level was 2½ tons, giving 16 per cent.; at No. 4 level 13 tons, 1·88 per cent.; at No. 5 level 22 tons for 3·02 per cent. copper. Total 39½ tons, averaging 3·40 per cent. copper. Thirty tons of ore was despatched to Cockle Creek.

At the 100ft. level of the Mount David mine the south-west crosscut has been extended 17ft.; 25ft. west of the old pump shaft a reef averaging about 2ft. 3in. in thickness, and showing gold in the solid stone, has been passed through. The manager has sent to the mill 113 tons.

The New Prince of Wales Gold Mine superintendent reports that the shaft has been sunk a further depth of 8ft. 6in., a total of 168ft.

The south drive at the 120ft. level of the Einasleigh Freehold Copper Mines, Limited, is in 8ft. The face is solid ore. The ore body continues to improve in value, latest assays giving 19 per cent. and 16·6 per cent. copper. The average of all the ore broken on the level to date is 12 per cent.

Mr. Walter Hardie reports that the Ovens Valley Gold-dredging Company's pontoon was successfully launched on the 24th instant.

At the Glenfine Extended No. 3 shoot, south-west drive, has been extended 42ft.; the wash is thin with a little gold.

Both drives at the All Nations are showing a little gold in prospects.

The New Discovery shaft has been sunk to 25ft. The reef is improving in size from 6in. to 2ft., showing fair gold.

PARRAMATTA DISTRICT.

DAY OF PUBLIC MOURNING.

The various ministers of religion have conferred in regard to the manner in which the services are to be conducted on the day of mourning. Owing to the fact that nothing has yet been decided upon by the Government, no definite steps can be taken, but in all probability a united service will be held, either in the Town Hall or in the park. An effort will be made to get the co-operation of the military and the friendly societies, and it has also been suggested that the Sunday-school children should take part in the mourning procession.

THE BAULKHAM HILLS TRAM.

Great satisfaction was expressed in Parramatta and Baulkham Hills on Tuesday when it was known that the much-talked-of tram from Parramatta to Baulkham Hills was to be proceeded with at an early date. On Monday the Minister for Works assured the member for the town, Mr. W. J. Ferris, M.L.A., that every effort was being made to expedite the work, and Mr. Deane, the consulting engineer, had that day informed him that it was confidently hoped that the work would be put in hand within the ensuing three weeks.

LAW REPORT.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 29.

PROBATE COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Owen.)

A DISPUTED WILL.

Climes v. Cooper.

Sir Julian Salomons and Mr. M'Intyre, instructed by Messrs. Chenhall and Eddie, appeared for the caveator, William Cooper, and moved, under the 73rd section of the Probate Act of 1890, for an order appointing an administrator of the personal estate and a receiver of the real estate of the late Matilda Climes, pending the hearing of a suit which had been commenced to test the validity of the will of the deceased. It appeared that James Anthony Climes, husband of the testatrix, had taken steps to obtain probate of the will, but William Cooper, the father of the late Mrs. Climes had lodged a caveat for the purpose of having the will proved in solemn form, and in the meantime he desired to have an administrator and a receiver of the estate appointed by the Court. Mr. Lingen and Mr. Lyons, instructed by Mr. T. M. Slattery, appeared for the plaintiff to oppose the application.

His Honor, after hearing the affidavits for and against the application, and the arguments of counsel, said there was no doubt that the Court had a very wide jurisdiction under the 73rd section of the Probate Act of 1890, and it was a very salutary jurisdiction, but he thought that the parties ought always to come before the Court at the earliest possible time to ask the Court to exercise its jurisdiction. There was no doubt that circumstances might arise from time to time showing that assets in an estate were in danger, or it might be shown that the person in whose favour a will had been made was not collecting the assets, or that he was making away with them, or not paying the debts, or was otherwise misbehaving himself as administrator. If that were shown the Court at any stage of the case would appoint an administrator and a receiver. In this particular case, if the caveator had come as soon as the litigation had commenced and asked for such an order, it was not at all unlikely that the Court, under the circumstances disclosed in the affidavits, would have made the appointment; but the litigation commenced on November 23, when the statement of claim was filed, and the caveator could have come to the Court then. Instead of doing that he let matters rest until January 29, the case being set down for hearing on March 6, and if the Curator of Intestate Estates was appointed under the order asked for he would in all probability only hold the estate for about a month. At this stage he expressed no opinion whatever of the case, but plaintiff as the husband of the testatrix would be entitled to £500 in cash together with half of the rest of the estate, even if the will was set aside and there was an intestacy. The only assets that he could deal with pending the hearing of the suit consisted of some furniture and jewellery, and he would be entitled to much more than the value of those assets before anybody else was considered at all.

Application dismissed with costs.

PROBATES, &c.

Probate was granted in the estate of Richard Pearson to the two executors named in the will. Letters of administration were granted in the estate of Thomas Edward Collins to Catherine Collins, the widow of deceased.

IN CHAMBERS.

(Before Mr. Justice Owen.)

RULE NISI FOR A PROHIBITION.

Re W. Harpur (E. Sullivan and others respondents).

Mr. Kelynack, instructed by Messrs. Villeneuve Smith and Dawes (for Mr. P. E. Stirton, of Moree), appeared for Washington Harpur, of Mungindi, drover, and moved for a rule nisi calling upon C. E. Gale, P.M., of Moree, and Edward Sullivan, of Boomi, settlement lessee, to show cause why they should not be restrained by prohibition from further proceeding upon an order made by the magistrate named on December 10 last at Moree. Applicant also asked that the last named respondent should be called upon to show cause why he should not pay the costs of the application. It appeared that Harpur was charged with passing through the holding of Sullivan with travelling stock without giving the notice required by section 17 of the Diseases in Sheep Act to the occupier of the land. The information was signed "A. B. F. Zlotkowski, attorney for E. Sullivan," and the magistrate after hearing the evidence held the offence to be proved, and directed defendant to pay a fine of £4, with £7 15s 10d costs, in default levy and distress. Harpur now appealed on the ground that the information was bad, inasmuch as it was laid by the complainant's solicitor and not by the complainant himself. Counsel said that the point was determined by Mr. Justice Cohen in the case of re William Bell, reported in the "S. M. Herald" of May 26, 1898.

The rule was granted, and made returnable on February 11.

DIVORCE COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Owen.)

NEW TRIAL OF A SUIT.

Coningham v. Coningham (O'Haran co-respondent).

The petitioner (Arthur Coningham) appeared in person, and moved for an order fixing the date for the hearing of the suit and the mode of trial. Mr. Ralston, instructed by Mr. T. M. Slattery, appeared for Denis Francis O'Haran, who had been named as co-respondent, but there was no appearance by or on behalf of respondent, Alice Stanford Coningham. The previous trial commenced on December 3, and lasted until the 14th of the same month, when the jury of 12, not being able to agree, were discharged. The petitioner now desired to have the case set down again for hearing on March 18 next. Mr. Ralston said that the co-respondent wished to have the case tried as soon as possible, and it was necessary to settle the date, because a special panel must be summoned. He suggested March 4, or at the latest the 11th, but the petitioner said that his reason for asking for March 18 was that he had to proceed to Brisbane on business, and was afraid he would not be back by March 11. He, however, had no objection to the later date mentioned by Mr. Ralston.

His Honor fixed Monday, March 11, as the date of trial before a Judge and a special jury of 12.

DECREES ABSOLUTE.

His Honor made absolute the decrees nisi in the following suits, and declared the marriages dissolved:—Alice Parrey v. John Joseph Parrey, with the custody of the children; Julia Anne Leiper v. John Andrew Leiper, James Oliver Leighton v. Alice Maude Leighton, and William Powell v. Phoebe Powell.

THE ALEXANDRIA TRAGEDY.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

The adjourned inquest into the circumstances connected with the death of a child named Thelma Langton, aged 18 months, who died on January 15, at No. 145 Wyndham-street, Alexandria, from the effects of phosphorus poisoning, was concluded yesterday before the City Coroner and a jury.

The child's mother, Emily May Macdonald, was before the Court in custody.

Dr. Parker stated that on the 15th instant he was called to No. 145 Wyndham-street, Alexandria, where he saw deceased. She seemed pale and collapsed, and from what he was told he thought deceased had taken phosphorus. Witness prescribed for the child, and gave her an emetic. He did not see her again alive. He also attended to deceased's mother, Emily Macdonald, who complained of pains. She said she did not want to live if the child died. Witness did not see any injuries about her, but she seemed worried, and her appearance which was compatible with phosphorus poisoning.

Thomas Cooksey, second Government analyst, deposed to making an analysis of the stomach of the deceased. He found free phosphorus in considerable quantities, but found no other poison. The boxes of matches handed to him were the ordinary wax matches, and on analysing one of the heads he found it to contain phosphorus.

Dr. Jamieson deposed to making a post mortem examination of the body. The contents of the stomach smelt strongly of phosphorus, and the under lining was acutely inflamed. He placed the stomach and contents in a jar for the purpose of having them analysed. In his opinion deceased died from phosphorus poisoning.

Joseph Macdonald, husband of Emily May M'Donald, the deceased's mother, stated that deceased resided with him and his wife. When he returned from his work about 1 p.m. on the 15th instant both appeared to be well. His sister-in-law and her two children were also there. He afterwards lay down on his bed, and informed his wife that he was not well. About 2.30 p.m. he saw his wife pull three boxes of matches from her pocket. He asked her what she was doing with them, and she replied "Nothing." Witness took them out of her hand, and gave them to his sister-in-law. His wife said, "They are no good, Lizzie; open them." She then opened them, and asked where the heads were, but got no reply. When witness asked his wife what had become of the heads she said that she had thrown them down the bath, and witness said to her, "If you are thinking of doing anything to yourself, think better of it." Witness then fell asleep, and when he awoke he heard his wife say "I have poisoned myself and Midgy." Witness asked her if it was true, and said he would go straight for the police if it was. She said, "It is not true. Why should I poison myself and the child?" He believed what his wife said. Shortly afterwards he went downstairs, leaving his wife and the child in the room. He was reading a paper, when his sister-in-law called out, "Joe, Joe, quick; Midgy is retching." He ran upstairs and saw deceased vomiting. He asked his wife why she had done that, but she made no reply. Witness then went for a medical man, who attended to his wife and the child.

Eliza Macdonald stated that she resided with her husband at No. 145 Wyndham-street, Alexandria. Her brother-in-law and his wife also resided there. The occupants of the house lived peaceably together, and Emily Macdonald treated deceased kindly. She corroborated the evidence given by the previous witness relative to the conversation in the bedroom, and stated that when she went upstairs she found the child's mother bending over deceased, who was in bed vomiting. Emily M'Donald picked up the child and said, "She is going and will soon be gone, and I will not be long after her. I have poisoned her and myself." She said that she had given the child one and a half boxes of matches, and had taken two and a half boxes herself as well as some eye lotion. Witness took deceased from her mother and attended to her until the doctor arrived. The doctor then examined deceased's mother, and she said "I want to die, and if this does not succeed I will strangle myself." After the doctor left deceased got worse. The child's mother said to witness that she was sorry that she had poisoned her, and asked her to do what she could to save her. She further said that she did not know what made her do it. The child died about 9 o'clock. Shortly before that her mother said "I can't stand here and see her die. I will do something when she dies." When she saw deceased was in such pain she said she would cut her throat, and ran to the safe to get a knife, but witness held the safe door and prevented her doing so. She then went upstairs, asking witness to tell her when the baby died. She called out several times to know how the baby was, and when told that it was dead said, "Here goes, Liz," and immediately afterwards witness heard her fall over the balcony into the street. Witness's daughter opened the door, and Emily Macdonald walked in. She said she had hurt herself, and felt very bad. She had been married a month, and was always saying to witness that she would poison herself and her child.

Senior-Constable W. P. Bannan deposed that when he was taking Emily Macdonald to Prince Alfred Hospital she said two or three times that she had been driven to it. Witness said that he had charged her with the murder of the child that morning.

Constable W. J. Cubit also gave evidence.

Emily Macdonald stated that she wished to give evidence, but on the Coroner explaining her position and telling her that it would not be advisable for her to do so, she decided to reserve her defence. Mrs. Macdonald further said that she was not aware that she was being charged at Redfern Police Station that morning.

After a brief retirement the jury brought in a verdict of wilful murder against Emily May Macdonald. She was committed to take her trial at the Criminal Court to be held on February 11. Bail was refused.

BOTS IN HORSES.

The Chief Inspector of Stock has received the following report from Mr. J. D. Stewart, Veterinary Surgeon to the Stock Branch, with reference to the prevalence of the affection known as "bots in horses," and its prevention and treatment:—

"Although this affection has existed in Great Britain and other parts of the world for a considerable period, it has only recently been recognised to have established itself in this colony. It is believed to have been existent in New Zealand and Victoria for some time. From reports received from various inspectors of stock there is every indication that this new pest is spreading rapidly through the State from southern districts. During the past six months and probably owing to the drought the spread appears confined to coastal districts. Bots are the larval forms of the Œstrus Equi, or, as it is more commonly termed, the 'bot fly.' This fly, which in appearance somewhat resembles a bee, deposits its eggs under the jaws and on the breasts, shoulders, and forearms of horses turned out to graze. The eggs, which are found attached to the hair, are of a conical shape and yellowish-white in colour. The eggs hatch out larvæ in four or five days' time. The larvæ cause irritation to the skin, and a number eventually find their way to the horse's stomach by way of the mouth—through the animal licking the irritated part. To prevent the fly depositing its eggs the hair on the parts abovementioned should be smeared with a preparation of tar, kerosene, fat, &c. Many of the fluid sheep dips diluted with water and used as a wash destroy the eggs and larvæ on the skin. When the larvæ reach the stomach they fix themselves to the mucous membrane by means of hooklets and there develop. The number of bots found in the stomach is often relatively enormous. The presence of bots in the stomach gives rise to indigestion, which often leads to colic of a fatal kind. Further information as to the development of bots may be had by reference to an article by Mr. Froggatt, the Government Entomologist, which appeared in the issue of the 'Agricultural Gazette' of November last. When bots become attached to the stomach it is a very difficult matter to remove them by medicinal measures. Still turpentine and oil and other worm drenches administered on an empty stomach after a period of fasting often have a beneficial effect. After a sojourn in the stomach of about 10 months the larvæ attain maturity, and becoming detached voluntary pass out and develop into the flies."

HEALTH, AND HOW TO OBTAIN IT.

CONSUMPTION, PLEURISY, ABSCESSES.

A WONDERFUL CURE.

DOCTORS DIAGNOSED BUT VITADATIO CURED.

381 Swan-street, Richmond, Victoria, October 21, 1900.

Mr. S. A. PALMER, Sole Distributor of Webber's Vitadatio, Sydney.

Dear Sir,—As I consider Webber's Great Herbal Remedy has been the means of saving my life, I think the least I can do is hand you my testimonial. I do this absolutely of my own free will, with the hope that it will encourage others who suffer in a like manner as I did myself to persevere with Vitadatio, and through persevering may be cured of their infirmities. I had been suffering for five years. In the first place I was a youth not quite nineteen years of age. I worked in a cellar in Melbourne, and through the rapid changes of temperatures I caught cold after cold, which at last brought on Pleurisy; I was under one of the best doctors in Richmond for about three months, but I made no progress to recovery. He advised me to go for a trip to build me up, so in October, 1895, I left Melbourne for New Zealand. I was first under a doctor at Wyndham, N.Z., who failed to do me any good. He wished to hold a consultation, so I got another from Invercargill, N.Z. They came to the conclusion that I was suffering from Consumption; and that I could not live more than a month or two; they also advised me to go further north. So on their advice I went to Wellington. I was treated as an out-door patient at the hospital there from March, 1896, till March, 1898; but they failed to do me any good. I tried private doctors, but with the same disheartening result. They said it was consumption, and took it for granted (it could not be cured). After that I saw Mr. Palmer in Wellington, and he advised me to take Vitadatio, and seeing the good it had done him I started to take it, but after taking it for some time I got disheartened and thought it would not cure me. I expected a few bottles to cure me, but it did not, so I gave it up. So after that I went under another doctor, but he said he could do nothing for me, but as I am a member of the Foresters' Lodge I had to get a certificate report every fortnight. In such report he wrote I was suffering from Phthisis. He told my sister there was no possible hope for me, so I decided to come back to Melbourne; if I were to die I would die at home. I left Wellington in February, 1899, for Sydney. When in Sydney I could not go about for my feet were both swollen, so I had to stop there some time. I arrived in Melbourne in March, 1899, and the winter following I was confined to my bed; I could not turn myself in my bed without aid. I was very weak, and the doctor said I would not live a fortnight. After that I again saw Mr. Palmer, who still persisted that Vitadatio would do me good if I would just stick to it. He also told me I would die if I would not take it, so to please my family I again took it. After taking it for some time I began to swell very much in the stomach. I got the doctor to call. He wanted to tap me, but my mother would not allow him. I verily believe that to have been the Vitadatio working on the complaint. After that I made rapid progress. I used to feel the abscesses forming, and when they were to their height I could hardly breathe till they broke. I would start vomiting up blood mixed with phlegm, after that I would feel easy till some more was forming, which would come away in a like manner. But I have to thank God and Vitadatio I have got beyond that stage now. I never have those sicknesses now, and am able to go anywhere and everywhere, and eat well and sleep well. I have now not a pain nor an ache anywhere. I am a member of the Foresters' Lodge here, and the doctor gave me a certificate last month to say that I may follow any light employment, believing it will not injure my health by so doing. When I arrived in Melbourne one year and seven months ago I barely weighed 8st; now I am 9st. 10lb. Thanks to Vitadatio and your persistence. You are at perfect liberty to make what use you like of this testimonial. I will be pleased to answer any questions your patients may wish concerning my case.

I remain, dear Sir, yours truly,

J. ATKINSON.

TEETH can now be prepared for Filling Absolutely Without Pain by the above newly-invented process—even if the nerve is exposed.

To more fully reassure readers of this fact, I have shown the letters received from some of the Highest Officials in the colony upon whom I have used the "Cataphoresis" to representatives of the Sydney Morning Herald and the Daily Telegraph, which letters can be seen at my Chambers.

This announcement will naturally commend itself to those who have been too nervous to consult a Dentist for fear of the pain which has hitherto been inseparable from having a tooth filled.
